Fascist Officials Deny Attempts On Duce's Life

But Paris Newspaper Says Two Attacks and Two Men Executed

Hundreds Take Oath

PARIS (CP-Havas)—The newspaper Paris Soir, in a dispatch from Nice, reported today that two attempts were made within the past month to assassinate Premier Mussolini of Italy.

(Italian government officials in Rome denied the Paris report. "You can be absolutely certain the reports are not true," a government spokesman said.)

Both would-be assassins were executed, the dispatch said. It added the first attempt was made April 27 and the second early in May, before Mussolini's departure on a tour of Piedmont.

The first man was executed April 28 and the other on the night he committed the crime, the newspaper said.

The second would-be assassin was quoted as saying during his questioning: "I knew that I would die, but I sacrificed my life to rid Italy of the man who oppresses us. A few hundred of us have taken the same oath and we hope we shall soon realize it."

Despite pressure placed on him by Italian police, the Paris Soir said, he refused to divulge the names of his friends.

Full Holiday Next Tuesday

City Declares May 30 Day Off, But Will Not Prosecute Open Stores

The City Council, in special session today, declared Tuesday next a full-day holiday. But merchants who desire to stay open will not be prosecuted, Mayor Andrew McGavin stated.

Under the arrangement, bank and store employees will have May 30 off. Stores will observe the regular Wednesday afternoon half-holiday on May 31.

Immediately following the meeting, a special committee composed of Aldermen Ed Williams, John A. Worthington, R. A. C. Dewar and W. L. Morgan started a canvass of city stores to see if owners would leave their restrooms open to the public and to request the big department stores to make some provision for restaurant service during the day.

Bank managers of Victoria attended the meeting in a body to put forward their plea for a full holiday. They could not recognize a partial holiday, they stated, and listed the objections they had to keeping their premises open during the Royal procession.

C. W. Pangman, chairman of the Victoria Clearing House Association, spoke for the delegates present, along with G. H. Stevens. They informed the council the city's two big department stores were closing irrespective of city regulations for that day.

George MacDonald, speaking for the retail merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce, stated the merchants would abide by the decision of the council and close if such an order were made. If the council's decision gave them the option of remaining open, they would still close if a holiday was declared, he said. He spoke of the desire of Victoria merchants to have the city lining the duties they had accepted in providing rest-room accommodation for the anticipated crowds.

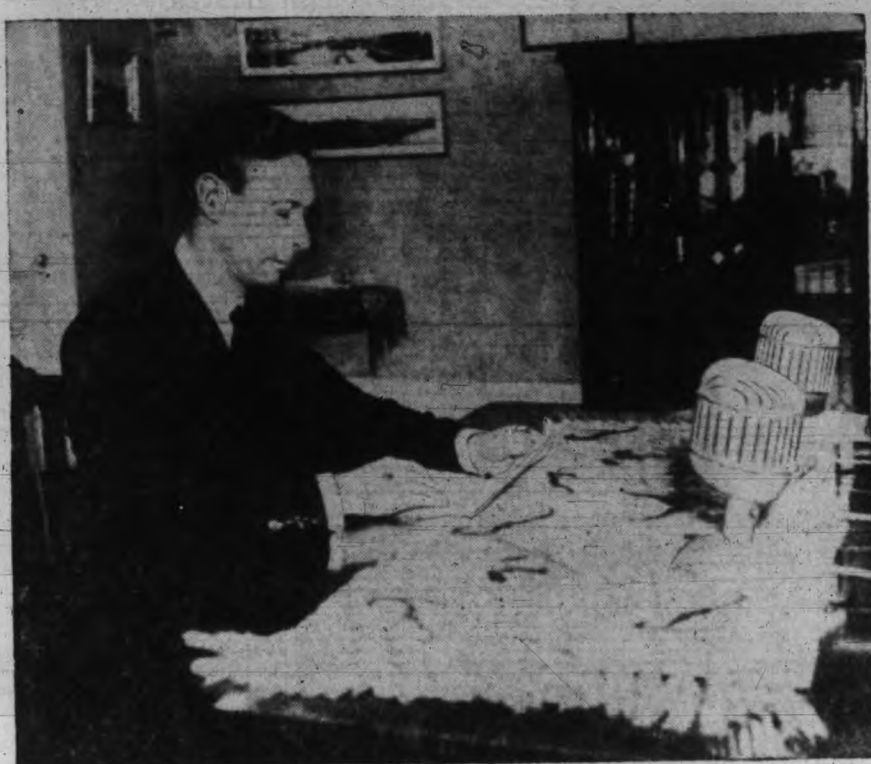

"We are not looking at the question from the matter-of-fact or money, entirely, but of service," he stated. "We don't care whether we stay open or not."

Alderman W. H. Davies thought the city would be foolish to lose the revenue stores would collect if they remained open.

Question arose over use of store conveniences. The two big department stores stated their facilities would not be available, when contacted by telephone.

Opinions on the advisability of closing differed in the discussion, but on the vote the council was unanimous in calling for a holiday.

"If any of the stores wish to keep open, there will be no prosecution," the mayor said. His statement was endorsed by a council vote.

EMPIRE BROADCAST—When King George, as pictured above, delivered an address to the nations of the Empire from Winnipeg, his words were heard in other countries. The speech was carried on networks in the United States and France and other parts of Europe.

WHEN WINNIPEG SAW ROYAL COUPLE—This shows how Their Majesties, under-terred by rainfall, drove in an open car through Winnipeg in order that the assembled throngs might see them. An umbrella for Her Majesty was their only protection. The honor guard was a troop of the Lord Strathcona Horse.

ANCIENT TRIBUTE PAID—During the Royal visit to Winnipeg, King George received from the Hudson's Bay Company two elk heads and two black beaver skins, the tribute required by the company's 1670 charter to be paid to the reigning monarch whenever he sets foot in Canada. P. Ashley Cooper, governor of the company, is seen making the presentation.

Mortgage Bank Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—The House of Commons today passed the Central Mortgage Bank Bill through second reading and sent it to the banking and commerce committee for study.

The bill, which provides for a government-owned institution to share part of the cost of a write-down of mortgage debts by loan companies coming under its scope and a general reduction and regulation of interest rates, passed "on division" but without a formal recorded vote.

No Insurance License for Lloyds

The provincial government will not grant a license to Lloyds' Association to carry on general insurance business in British Columbia, Premier Pattullo said today.

The government made this decision following representations by B.C. insurance agents to the effect that entry of Lloyds into the business here would create chaos.

Conscription Comes Into Force

LONDON (AP)—The conscription bill, which makes 20-year-old men in England, Scotland and Wales liable to six months of compulsory military training, became law today.

The Royal assent was given by Royal commission in the absence of the King, after completion of parliamentary action. The first annual contingent is expected to total 200,000 men and the first conscripts will start training July 1.

British Terms For Russian Pact Broadest Yet Made

Reported to Include Defence of Neutrals Asking for Aid

Voroshiloff Invited

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON — Great Britain today took two steps to cement Anglo-Russian relations in the interests of European peace.

The British formula for a mutual defence pact linking Russia with the Anglo-French anti-aggression bloc was sent to Sir William Seeds, ambassador in Moscow, for transmission to the Kremlin while War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha invited Marshal Klementi Voroshiloff, Red army commander, to attend British army manoeuvres expected to be held in September.

The War Office denied reports that Mr. Hore-Belisha might visit Russia when staff talks between the two nations begin, but it was practically certain he will go to Warsaw to confer with military leaders in Poland, already a party to the anti-aggression front.

Official quarters declined to specify the terms of the British formula dispatched to Moscow, but they indicated, however, it is extremely wide and elastic in an effort to halt any Fascist raids on small European powers.

In broad outlines the British formula would bring together Britain, France and Russia if any one of them were attacked. In other words the territorial integrity of each would be guaranteed by the other two. In addition, the three powers would pledge themselves to co-operate in the defence of every nation which has received guarantees from any one of them—Poland, Roumania, Greece and Turkey.

DEFENCE OF NEUTRALS

More significant still is a provision that the three nations would co-operate in the defence of any neutral power which asked assistance in the event of aggression.

If those terms are accepted by Russia and France, it will bring about the widest and most comprehensive commitment Britain ever has given in Europe. The British formula would cover every corner of Europe where aggression might break out.

France arranged to hand the text of the proposed three-power pact to Jakob Surits, Soviet ambassador at Paris, at 3 p.m. (8 a.m., P.S.T.), the same time set for delivery of the British copy in Moscow to Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov.

Since the proposals were worked out after conferences in Geneva among Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet of France and Ivan Maisky, Soviet ambassador to London, British officials believed it would meet with Russia's approval at least on main points.

Hope was expressed in official circles for a definite agreement within a week or 10 days which would add Russia to the Anglo-French front.

OTHERS INFORMED

Informed sources said Poland and other countries which had been keeping in close touch with Britain were told of the contents of the note.

The Associated Press, reporting Russian War Commissar Voroshiloff had been invited to attend British army manoeuvres, said the invitation was among a number reported sent to European army chiefs—presumably those of Britain's allies, such as Poland, Roumania, Greece and Turkey.

In September the army plans to execute in the Aldershot area "the biggest and most important strategic road and rail movement" ever attempted in peacetime by British troops.

ABOARD THE PILOT TRAIN—Speeding along at 60 miles an hour, the Royal train rapidly ate up the distance between Medicine Hat and Calgary, making a brief stop at Bassano.

Little groups gathered at spots along fences or rights-of-way to wave to Their Majesties and at one time excitement was provided as the train had a motor car escort. A car with four Mounties kept pace on a gravel road with the train, but finally had to slow down at a crossing. Then when the train stopped at Bassano the motor car overtook the train and vanished over the horizon.

Calgary was reached at 3 in the afternoon and Mayor Andrew Davison and Mrs. Davison extended the city's welcome. Calgary was in gala attire and after a salute of 21 guns, His Majesty inspected the guard of honor. Presentations followed.

Their Majesties will leave this evening for Banff, where they will rest until Sunday morning. A miniature stampede is being staged in Calgary this afternoon for the King and Queen.

Brilliant Weather

CALGARY—Brilliant sunshine bathed the station as Their Majesties stepped from the train here. Throngs outside the station cheered in the lusty style that encourages daring cowboys at Calgary's famed annual stampede.

The King wore a navy pin-striped suit, a blue shirt and red tie and hard hat.

Queen Elizabeth was dressed in a beige ensemble with wide bands of beige fox at the elbows and an off-the-face beige straw hat with a crushed baby-blue velvet crown.

Calgary Crowded

By SAM G. ROSS

CALGARY—The old west reigned in modern Calgary today as thousands poured into the city in bright, sunny weather to shout loyal cheers to King George and Queen Elizabeth.

Ten-gallon hats, bright-hued shirts, Indian regalia and the smart togs of the younger generation gave Eighth Avenue and other busy downtown streets a blaze of color.

The influx of visitors—estimated at 100,000, filling the city with more than double its normal population of 87,000—started yesterday and reached its apex today. Throngs were on downtown streets early.

ROYALTY GLIMPSES OLD WEST

From Staff Correspondent

Aboard the Royal Pilot Train

MEDICINE HAT, Alta.—This morning at 8.50 a little group gathered in front of the grain elevator at Walsh and gave the King and Queen a spirited welcome into the province of Alberta.

There is a tinge of the old west. It started in Winnipeg with Indian war dances in front of improvised Fort Saskatchewan. High riding cowboys who tame broncos are on station platforms in their chaps and broad hats.

Over this rolling foothill country roam sheep, cattle and horses, and roads are soggy with rain. In some places cars, buried to their axles in mud, have been abandoned for the time being by people who are anxious to get to the tracks to watch the King and Queen go by.

Farmers everywhere are pleased at the fine rains that have visited this area in the last few days. They call it King's weather and resent the suggestion that rain spoiled the visit of Their Majesties.

Last night in Moose Jaw the streets were dry as the pilot train pulled in, and Main Street presented a beautiful appearance. White lights strung for one mile between lamp standards produced the effect of a pyrotechnic Niagara Falls. Sixty thousand people awaited the Royal Party. But by the time the Royal

Special trains rolled in from all sections of the foothills and prairie stretches bringing school children and adults. The school population of 13,000 was more than doubled by another 15,000 from surrounding rural points.

The celebrating crowds brought scenes famed during Calgary's annual Stampede Week. There were Indians and cowboys and cowgirls. There were farmers and farm women from the rural points. There were men and women dressed in latest style.

SHIRTS AND HATS

But it was the garb of the old west that stood out in the throngs that pushed along the busy business sections. Bright colored shirts—reds, blues and bright oranges—marked the cowhand bent on holiday.

Indians came from reservations of the South-Blackfoot, Bloods, Peigans, Stonies and Sarcees. About 2,000 of them trekked into the city from the foothills. One of them, Philip Poucette of the Stonies, came 20 miles with his pack pony.

All was activity around the Indian encampment beside Their Majesties' eight-mile route through the city. All the 30 teepees were brightly colored. The tribal chiefs were in command.

MANY MOTORISTS

Hundreds came into the city by automobile. Special patrols of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police were at the city outskirts. The visitors came from all directions and from scores of surrounding hamlets.

Folk from Lethbridge, Alberta's most southern city, came up by train, bus and private car. It was estimated 4,000 came from the Lethbridge district alone. Members of the 18th Field Brigade of Lethbridge, under command of Lieut-Col. W. E. Huckvale, were on hand.

Getting lunch was a problem for some. Restaurants and snack shops were crowded during the noon hour. The cautious ones had guarded against this problem. They sat in automobiles and ate lunches prepared ahead of time.

School children and adults started early to occupy some of the 40,000 bleacher seats along the Royal procession route. Places of vantage were occupied by noon. The bleacher seats were selling up to $2, but there were no reports of prices above that figure.

Seventeen bands from Calgary and district dotted the procession route. Ten were Calgary bands. The others came from Rocky Mountain House, Didsbury, Gleichen, High River, Strathmore, Innisfail and Drumheller.

train pulled in there was a drizzle and then it became a drenching downpour. But through it all farmers and their children cheered the King and Queen and were grateful for rain, although it wet them to the skin. It makes the outlook for good crops most promising.

Twenty thousand people greeted Their Majesties at Medicine Hat, and there was brilliant sunshine. Four hundred residents of Big Sandy, Montana, with a fine girls' band, came north yesterday and gave a picturesque touch to the platform scene.

KING TALKS WITH OCTOGENARIAN

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP)—

The King today told an 86-year-old Medicine Hat woman, Mrs. A. M. Wright, that his hand, injured two days ago when a door of the Royal train crushed two fingers, was "just fine."

Their Majesties chatted with Mrs. Wright, one of the old-timers who stood on the station platform during the 21-minute Royal Visit. "The Queen shook hands with me and then the King did too," said Mrs. Wright. "I wished the Queen a safe trip and a safe return. I wished the King a safe trip too."

British M.P.'s Holiday

LONDON (CP)—The House of Commons today adjourned for the Whitsuntide holiday. The recess will last until June 5 unless some emergency arises before that date.

MEDICINE HAT, Alta.—King George and Queen Elizabeth came to Medicine Hat today in bright, sunny weather.

An estimated 12,000 men, women and children from 300 miles around, including the northern United States, swelled Medicine Hat's normal population of 9,500 for the historic visit.

The visit was six minutes longer than scheduled. Arriving on the dot at 10.10 a.m. M.S.T., the train was scheduled to leave at 10.25. It pulled out of the station at 10.31, with crowds cheering.

King George and Queen Elizabeth mingled with the crowd at the station during the informal visit. Prime Minister King jumped from the train before it came to a stop and joined Mayor Hector Lang in top hat and tails as Their Majesties stepped from the train.

King George wore a lounge suit and was bareheaded, while the Queen wore a beige ensemble with an off-the-face hat.

Prime Minister King presented Mayor Lang and Mrs. Lang to Their Majesties and the mayor presented A. H. Mitchell, M.P., and Mrs. Mitchell and Dr. J. L. Robinson, M.P.P., and Mrs. Robinson.

Mrs. C. A. Anderson, Great War nurse, presented Her Majesty with a bouquet of roses.

ROYAL SALUTE FIRED

The 1st Southern Alberta Regiment fired a Royal salute. Their Majesties stood at attention as 6,000 school children sang O Canada and "The Maple Leaf Forever."

Showing particular interest in the gathering of Cubs, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, Their Majesties walked through the crowd—greatest in Medicine Hat's history.

The city that Rudyard Kipling described as having "all hell for a basement" because of its natural gas supplies, was gaily decorated for the visit.

Old-timers were accommodated in a special section, and there were almost 150 of them—men and women who were over 70 years of age, and who had lived in Medicine Hat and district for at least 40 years.

Five bands supplied music. There was the 50-piece boys' band from Big Sandy, Montana; the Medicine Hat Pipe Band, the Medicine Hat Killie Band, the 40-piece band from Redcliff, Alta., and the bugle band of the 1st Southern Alberta Regiment.

As the train pulled out of the station, the Medicine Hat Killie Band and the bugle band of the 1st Southern Alberta Regiment played.

The celebration of the Royal Visit started the city on a day-long celebration that includes an international Scout jamboree and fireworks at night.

Civic Presentations All Made Outside

From Staff Correspondent with the Royal Party

ABOARD THE PILOT TRAIN—So far all the mayors and aldermen have been presented at outside ceremonies. Toronto had an elaborate pavilion on the steps of the City Hall, but in Winnipeg the City Hall sets so far back from Main Street that it was necessary to erect the pavilion at the pavement curb.

In looking back over the many crowds we have seen it is quite apparent that Toronto was best. The density of the people along the route was astonishing and made a profound impression upon the touring party.

Urges Post Office Drum Up Business

VANCOUVER (CP)—Postmasters in these modern days should no longer wait for business to come to them but should go out and "drum up" competition with other agencies which take revenue from the post office, T. P. Murphy of the British Columbia section of the Canadian Postmasters' Association today.

The superintendent of the equipment and supply branch of Canada's postal service said the post office today was in competition with telegraph companies, banks, express agencies, trucking companies and other forms of business. The department's only "monopoly" he said, was in the conveyance of mail.

GRAND FORKS, B.C. (CP)—An illuminated crown on Observation Mountain, 1,000 feet above this southern boundary town, darkened during the progress of the King and Queen westward, will wink on again when their Majesties enter British Columbia Sunday. The crown was originally built as a memorial to the Jubilee of King George V and Queen Mary.

Praise Conduct of Canadian Crowds

By R. K. CARNEGIE

ABOARD ROYAL PILOT TRAIN (CP)—Restraint and orderliness of Canadians when receiving the King and Queen have impressed their Majesties deeply. It was learned today from officials traveling on the Royal train.

While far from lacking enthusiasm, the crowds have been so orderly even when no guards are present that both King George and Queen Elizabeth have commented on the fact.

Typical indication of the crowd conduct was given when the Royal train stopped a half-hour for servicing at the railway divisional point of Swift Current, Sask. It was 6 o'clock, shortly after sunrise, when the train pulled into the yards. But more than 2,000 persons were on hand to cheer and join in singing God Save the King while a band played.

They stood back a respectful distance from Royal cars and cheered and cheered, though at first there appeared to be a hesitancy for fear of disturbing their Majesties.

After leaving Moose Jaw last night, the Royal pilot train on a little siding near the village of Herbert, not far from Swift Current, and remained there until daybreak.

Question On Nazi Propaganda in B.C.

League Asks Probe
Of Activities of German Lecturer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Officials of the Canadian League for Peace and Democracy said today the organization had dispatched letters to Ottawa asking an investigation into the activities of a Nazi who recently made a speaking tour of British Columbia showing German films.

The letter, sent to Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, and Howard Green, member of Parliament for Vancouver South, offered the co-operation of the league in any investigation.

"How did it happen that a German agent, bearing films and lantern slides of propaganda nature, was permitted to cross the border in a German car?" the letter asked. "Were immigration authorities aware he had entered the country, or did he enter the country illegally?"

"If he did enter the country illegally, why was he not arrested. Citizens of British Columbia are becoming genuinely alarmed at the growth of Nazi organizations on this coast," the letter said.

British Columbia Police at Kelowna recently refused to allow the speaker to hold a meeting there. Later a threatening letter purporting to come from a German resident was received by police in connection with the banning of the meeting.

Royal Message to Children From U.S.

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP)—Appreciation of the boys and girls who came across the international boundary for the Royal Visit today was voiced by Queen Elizabeth as she and King George mingled with 6,000 school children here for a short time.

The school band from Big Sandy, Montana, traveled from the United States along with scores of school children to participate in Medicine Hat's celebration.

To Bandmaster Clarence F. Boess and 17-year-old Drum major Nora Berg the Queen said she was glad they had come up for the visit.

Their Majesties paid particular attention to the gathering of Cub Scouts and Girl Guides, and spoke briefly to Mrs. J. S. McLeod, secretary of the Royal Scouts' Association.

Quiet Birthday For Queen Mary

King's Mother, 72,
Still Resting After
Motor Car Accident

By PAT USSHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—Great Britain's best-known grandmother—Queen Mary—became 72 today in a birthday anniversary of unusual quiet and unusual interest.

The beloved Queen Mother remained close to her flower-filled apartment in her Marlborough House residence, reminded by her doctors that time would be needed to heal an eye injury suffered when her automobile turned over in a collision last Tuesday.

Engagements she had undertaken were cancelled as a result of the accident, but the Queen was consoled by gifts, banks of flowers and hundreds of messages of sympathy and birthday congratulations which poured in from all parts of the Empire.

Among the first callers at state Marlborough House this morning were the Queen's granddaughters, Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, who sent a birthday card and present and a special gift of flowers. Princess Elizabeth already had written Queen Mary on behalf of her little sister and herself expressing sympathy.

GAIN REPORTED
The doctors' bulletin this morning announced Her Majesty had spent a quiet night and said progress continued to be satisfactory. However, it asserted that "improvement of the eye must necessarily be slow."

During the day a constant stream of callers signed the visitors' book at Marlborough House and left messages.

Guns boomed a Royal salute and Her Majesty was pleased with arrangements made by her sons. The King telephoned from western Canada and the Duke of Windsor from France.

Members of the Royal Family in London called. The Queen Mother chatted with two sons and her daughter, the Duchess of Kent and Gloucester and the Princess Royal, Countess of Harewood.

Fernie People to See Royal Train

FERNIE, B.C. (CP)—All public and high schools in this coal mining city near British Columbia's eastern boundary were closed today to enable parents and children to journey northward for a glimpse of the King and Queen as they pass along the railway between Calgary and Revelstoke, B.C. It was estimated more than 1,000 residents from the district will witness the passing of the Royal train from vantage points along the line.

Vatican Urges New European Talks

General Meeting On Bilateral Conversations
Suggested to Support Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A Vatican news service said today that papal diplomats had suggested to Europe's principal foreign offices that peaceful solutions of Europe's difficulties might be found either through a "general meeting of interested powers" or through a series of bilateral talks.

The news service said "the Holy See has limited itself to using normal diplomatic channels to invite interested governments to consider in a pacific spirit the present serious international moment and to seek with peaceful intentions the solution of grave questions which currently hang over the world."

"The Holy See," it continued, "has not entered in any way into considerations and specific appraisals of questions which are today subjects of discussion and international controversy."

"But it has instead insisted, for general and moral reasons inspired by the well-being of humanity, that the enormous trial of a war which is more horrible than that of 1914 should be by all means avoided."

"Regarding practical proposals, the Holy See limited itself to recalling that the peaceful examination of the questions may be obtained either by a general meeting of the interested powers or by examinations two by two limited to the nations which are involved in various particular questions."

The statement referred to diplomatic moves toward maintaining peace initiated by the Pope several years ago.

"There is no doubt, in fact," the news service said, "that every happy result reached through these single discussions would contribute by reflection to lighten the general situation and render easier the peaceful liquidation of the whole international situation."

It concluded: "The Holy See's steps have been received everywhere with respect and deference."

Protest to Japan

PARIS (AP)—France protested strongly to Japan today over the boarding yesterday by Japanese of the French steamship Aramis about 17 miles from Hongkong.

Coupled with the protest was a demand there be no further molestation of French shipping.

The action was taken by the French naval commander in Shanghai, who delivered the protest to Japanese naval authorities.

North Shore Route Cut Protested

Vancouver Change
In Royal Itinerary
Causes Confusion

VANCOUVER (CP)—An official request to the Royal reception committee here that the Royal route through North and West Vancouver on the North Shore of Burrard Inlet be shortened left preparations for the visit of the King and Queen in confusion at those centres today.

Reeve J. B. Leyland of West Vancouver and Commissioner G. W. Vance of North Vancouver have both wired Prime Minister Mackenzie King asking the drive through University Heights in Vancouver be changed instead of shortening the tour of the North Shore.

Mrs. D. G. Steeves, member of the Legislature for North Vancouver, dispatched a telegram to C. Grant MacNeil, North Vancouver member of the House of Commons, protesting the proposed change.

"Probably more than 10,000 people who have been promised places and paid for them will be affected by this announcement," Reeve Leyland said.

He said the proposed change would cut off about six miles of the North Shore drive and had "thrown all our arrangements out of gear." Reservations had been made for school children, disabled veterans, nurses, widows and others in the deleted areas, he said.

Chief of Police W. W. Foster announced yesterday there would be no change in the Vancouver tour.

The official request for a change, received by the general reception committee here, pointed out that owing to strain on their Majesties it would be appreciated if either the length or the time of the drives here could be shortened.

Book Will Record King's Canadian Tour

OTTAWA (CP)—State Secretary Fernand Rinfret told the House of Commons today that Gustav Lanctot, Dominion archivist, will write a book about the Royal tour of Canada. Mr. Lanctot is traveling on the Royal train during the trip, making notes and observations for his volume.

Mr. Rinfret made the statement after Jean Francois Pouliot, Liberal, Temiscouata, Quebec, had asked if it would not be less expensive for the government to make up an album of newspaper clippings and pictures about the King and Queen's visit instead of sending the archivist along on the Royal train.

KING'S JOURNEY THRILLS BRITAIN

Welcome Given in Canada Helps Unite
Empire, Says Archbishop

LONDON (CP)—The King's Empire Day broadcast from Winnipeg was described by the Archbishop of Canterbury today as "a striking proof that all nations embraced by the Commonwealth are one family united in loyalty to the great heritage of freedom and love of peace."

The Primate, most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, made the remark in an address to Canadians gathered in St. Mary Woolnorth Church for the annual British Columbia service. The old church, in the heart of London, has been looked on as British Columbia's church in London since 1936, when it presented an Elizabethan flagon to the Church of England cathedral in Victoria on the occasion of the lord mayor's visit to Canada's Pacific coast.

The Archbishop, who spoke of "accounts which have thrilled our hearts of Canada's enthusiastic welcome to Their Majesties," said that during present anxious times there were disquieting signs that "our heritage might be imperilled, but loyalty to it will gain new strength in the resolve to defend it."

Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain, was in the session. Sir Frank Bowater, the lord mayor, attended in state. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, former Canadian prime minister, also was present.

Canada-Britain Mail Slowness Charged

LONDON (CP)—Major G. C. Tryon, Postmaster-General, told the House of Commons today that inquiries had been made over delays in the mails between Canada and Great Britain, and he was considering approaching the Canadian government for a joint investigation of the matter.

Replying to a question by Sir Percy Hurd, Conservative, Mayor Tryon said mails between Britain and the Dominion during February and March were particularly slow due to the lack of suitable sailings from North America in midweek. He was not aware of Sir Percy's complaint that the delay was due to slow handling of the mail in Southampton, but promised to investigate.

Change in Postal Appointments Urged

VANCOUVER (CP)—J. L. Jackson, president of the Canadian and British Columbia Associations of Postmasters, last night voiced an appeal to have all postal appointments made by the civil service commission.

He told 144 provincial postmasters gathered here in annual convention that postal employees in stations of $3,000 revenue or less were struck from the civil service by Parliament in 1932 and added:

"We tried again this year to have these postmasters brought under the service, and I understand the motion failed by only one vote in committee."

Without revealing names, he quoted letters from a number of members of Parliament in favor of making all postal appointments through the civil service.

Counsellors of State Act for King

LONDON (CP)—The Royal Counsellors of State, appointed to act for the King during his absence in Canada, held a Privy Council at York House, St. James' Palace, last night. The counsellors—the Dukes of Gloucester and Kent, the Princess Royal (the Countess of Harewood), and Princess Arthur of Connaught—transacted routine business, it was stated.

It was the first time in 10 years that counsellors have acted for the sovereign at a Privy Council.

Protection for B.C. Salmon Exports

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister W. D. Euler told the House of Commons last night action had been taken regarding importation of Japanese canned salmon into Great Britain and Australia in tins stamped "Can," which gave the impression it was made in Canada.

Canadian trade commissioners had brought the matter to the attention of the authorities in both countries and warnings had been issued to customs authorities to watch for such tins.

King Cheered By 100,000 On Regina Parade

Motorcycle Escort
Unrehearsed Event

Indians Honor King

Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA (CP)—King George and Queen Elizabeth departed from Regina at 9 last night after a seven-hour visit that was filled with color and amusing incidents.

Once, the touring car carrying the Royal Couple raced away from its retinue and left even the motorcycle escort behind temporarily. The entourage followed the Royal car to the station—two miles behind.

Through it all the Queen laughed and chatted gaily, while the King smiled and saluted with his right hand to the 100,000 persons who jammed the parade route, decorated with colored bunting, flags and wheat sheaves.

Whether or not the crowd accepted the disruption in the parade as a Royal lark, they could not have cheered more enthusiastically as the Royal car alone formed the procession.

It was a gay ending to the triumphal parade through the streets of this prairie centre, and varied other events, which included an Indian ceremony, in which the King was made a chief.

While the Royal car drove through 25,000 rural school children at the Exhibition grounds, Indians from the Pipestone Reserve, about 35 miles from here, chanted and danced in their old ceremonial.

Costumed persons representing various nations and historical figures who later took part in a national pageant following their Majesties' appearance, flanked the painted teepees at the sides of the grandstand.

Excitement reigned among the squaws, who held their papooses up to see the "beautiful white lady" drive by. The King and Queen never stopped smiling as they drove round the circular track and passed the grandstand twice.

In the afternoon the Royal couple had tea at the Royal Canadian Mounted Police training school.

SEE GOPHER

Immediately after their return to the Royal train the King discarded the white-topped peak cap of his admiral's uniform and walked briskly with the Queen along the station platform. They walked alone, as they had earlier in the day at Broadview while en route to Regina. They stopped once to watch the antics of a gopher, little brown prairie rodent which stood on his hind legs and then leaped into the green wheat fields.

The Queen changed the pink wool suit that she wore early in the day for a blue ensemble in which she appeared at the station. The King wore his naval uniform throughout the day.

Early in the evening they both dressed for the formal Government House dinner, the only function attended by their Majesties in the evening prior to their departure at 9.

Before the train left for a 15 minute stop at Moose Jaw the engineer was given secret instructions to lie overnight on an undisclosed siding.

Replies to Address
Of Welcome Presented
By Legislature

REGINA (CP)—The following reply to the address from the province of Saskatchewan was handed by King George to the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly at the Legislative Buildings ceremony here yesterday.

"It is a very great pleasure to receive this address of welcome from the members of the Legislature on behalf of the people of the province of Saskatchewan, and I wish, through you, Mr. Speaker, to express my sincere appreciation of the assurances of loyalty and devotion to my throne and person which it contains."

"I thank you for your kind reference to the Queen and for your pledge of devotion to Her Majesty."

"I am heartened by your allusion to the period of trial through which we all have been passing, and I realize gratefully that the people of Saskatchewan, as a part of this great Dominion, are making a significant contribution to the welfare of the British Commonwealth of Nations. Achieving unity through a common Canadian citizenship, men of diverse races are here proving the advantages of a way of life based on mutual tolerance and democratic institutions."

"It is my earnest hope that the people of Saskatchewan, with the energy and determination by which they have so effectively settled this central portion of the great western plain, may move onward to a continually expanding prosperity, and an ever wider diffusion of well-being and happiness."

"The Queen and I are very pleased to be with you today in your attractive capital, and pray that God may greatly bless the people of this province."

Verse Added to National Anthem

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP)—A choir of 640 voices sang "God Save the King" when Their Majesties arrived here last night and added a second verse, written for the Queen by Rev. R. McNaughton of Grace United Church, Moose Jaw.

It was doubtful whether the Royal visitors could distinguish the words above the blare of bands and murmur of the welcoming throng. They are:

God save our gracious Queen.
Long live our Bonnie Queen,
God bless our Queen,
We love her winsome ways,
We join to sing her praise,
Smile on her all her days,
God bless our Queen.

Meighen Urges Rail Unification

Tells Senate He
Disagrees With Platform
Of His Party On Problem

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader in the Senate, last night repudiated his party's declaration against unification of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways. In the Senate he urged unification under private management.

"I have had enough of government operation," he said. "Don't tell me you can operate a railway when it is directed by ministers of the crown from the platforms in a by-election campaign."

Mr. Meighen said ministers had promised in a Montreal by-election that the terminal there would be gone ahead with if the Liberal candidate were elected.

The C.P.R. was a well-managed railway, a contributor to national greatness, but there was nothing so great or so well-managed that it compelled to operate on a wholly unsound basis it was not in danger of insolvency, said Senator Meighen.

"If we would avoid the calamity of C.P.R. bankruptcy and of the government taking it over, then end the threat of bankruptcy all along the line."

Hon. Raoul Dandurand, government leader, said the country would never stand for amalgamation under private ownership.

MAJORITY REPORT

The debate came on Senator Dandurand's motion to adopt the majority report of the Senate committee on the railway problem, which recommends further co-operation between the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific. Mr. Meighen supported an amendment moved by Senator C. P. Beaubien, Conservative, Quebec, substituting the minority report urging a form of unification.

Six years of "so-called co-operation" between the railways had brought results that "would not fill the hollow of my hand," Senator Meighen said. Both railways had sought to explain the failure of co-operation.

Sensor Dandurand refused to accept these explanations and said he was against unification in principle.

"The main reason this is not pleasant to me," said Senator Meighen, "is that I find myself in direct conflict with the platform of the party with which I am associated—in definite conflict with the leader of that party whose talents I admire (Hon. R. J. Manion). Certainly my duty under these circumstances is no pleasure."

Allegations of pessimism were flung at his position, said Senator Meighen. He called on the senators to remember the optimism of the '90's that built thousands of miles of railways in Canada, the optimism of the '20's, led by "the prince of all optimists, Sir Henry Thornton." Canada today had the fruits of these times of optimism.

ESTIMATE IN 1931

S. W. Fairweather, director of the C.N.R. bureau of economics, "an astute politician," had estimated in 1931 that $59,740,000 could be saved by unification, and had added a rider saying the saving was largely theoretical, said Mr. Meighen. But he had not qualified his estimate of $35,000,000 to be saved by co-operation.

Every proposed saving by co-operation meant fewer jobs, less maintenance, fewer stations, less of everything but high-salaried head office executives.

"You'll still have your offices filled with high-salaried men. You'll still have your Fair-weather and your Hungerfords."

But the ones lower down will be gone."

Co-operation without unification meant running pool trains with half the crew responsible to one group of executives and the other half in charge of another group of executives. It was a "hydra-headed business monstrosity" beyond conception.

"Some day the economic law is going to compel efficient management of our railways and discontinuance of waste," said Senator Meighen. "I don't know when it will come, but I hope it comes under such management that the evils of government operation cannot come in."

Useless Technique

LOCKING THE STABLE DOOR AFTER the horse has bolted would seem to fit Germany's state of "nerves" as reflected by dispatches from Berlin ever since it became reasonably certain Soviet Russia would enter the "Stop Hitler" pact. There is no suggestion that the senior partner in the Rome-Berlin axis has completely surrendered hope of thwarting the British-French-Russian proposal for joint action to prevent further totalitarian aggression. On the contrary, a new and more subtle formula obviously is being developed in the Reich's propaganda factory under the sinister, but none the less astute, direction of Herr Doktor Goebbels.

For example, the controlled German press has been instructed in the gentle art of "tonging down" its references to the Soviet government, its present policy and its political existence as a whole. One of the dailies of Cologne—in prewar days a stronghold of German Liberalism—devotes half its front page to a display of conciliatory sentiment, while another editor, whose prognostications have been uncannily correct, launches a doubt as to whether the new anti-aggression alliance will come into being. He evidently thinks Mr. Chamberlain is still as averse to dealing with Moscow now as he was in the dark days of last September. But this editorial mind seems to ignore the fact, or fails to understand its significance, that the British people still have the happy—if at times embarrassing—knack of letting Prime Ministers and governments know what they want when they want it. By this we mean that the ministry at Westminster realizes that it can "muff the play" with the Russian government only at its political peril.

If Germany feels, on the other hand, that it is in her best interests to reply to a definite British-French-Russian pact with what "may likewise be a triple alliance of our own"—meaning active military co-operation with Japan—neither London, Paris, nor Moscow can or will have any objection. As the "expert prognosticator" to whom we have referred says, however, "Japan would be a much better alliance partner if she had her affairs in the East straightened out . . . that is the big drawback." Precisely; Japan set the pace for the new aggressive imperialism. Her major miscalculation, obviously, was her faulty interpretation of the spirit of China. And the Nazi editorial mind surely requires no violent exercise to bring itself to a realization that it is one thing to invade a country of nearly 500,000,000 people and another thing to remain in such a vast domain as a conqueror. It is this very straightening out process which is worrying the gentlemen who sit with wrinkled brows at the seat of Nippon's government in Tokio.

No outcry from the democracies will be heard if the heads of the Nazi oligarchy in Berlin try to find some solace in their present unenviable position. Herr Hitler and his immediate advisers played—all their best strategic cards early in the game and collected a not insignificant series of tricks. Great Britain's hand may not have been played very sagaciously at that stage; but a lot of "high cards" have come her way since—and their value is unmistakable. Well may the axis partners be worried as they watch the cards moving.

Could This Be Done?

SEVERAL PROMINENT VICTORIANS have telephoned the editorial offices of this newspaper asking if it would be possible for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to rebroadcast the Empire Day proceedings during which His Majesty the King delivered his magnificent message to the peoples of the British Commonwealth in particular and to the world in general.

We do not know what specific policy determines the CBC in a matter of this kind—whether or not the unique nature of the event in question would come under more or less elastic rules and regulations covering unpredictable circumstances. As we drop the hint, however, we may add again that this part of CBC's job on Wednesday was excellently done.

Women As Public Servants

IT MAY NOT BE GENERALLY KNOWN that in only 25 states of the neighboring republic women have the right to sit on juries. Michigan and Montana have just taken the required action. Of these states, moreover, only 13 make jury service compulsory for women as well as for men.

No doubt many good people in the United States, if asked about this question, would have said, "Why, that was all settled back in 1919 when the constitutional amendment giving women the suffrage was adopted." But that is not so. Neither the complexities of the American federal-state governmental relationships, nor the intricacies of the law itself permit such simplicity.

For instance, in Illinois, all that was necessary was to insert "of both sexes" into the existing jury law. The law had provided that jurors should be chosen from the voters. That would seem clear enough to the lay mind. The assumption is that since women became voters in 1919, they were therefore eligible for jury duty. But that again is not so. In 1925 the state supreme court was still holding that the law meant "men voters." As a matter of fact, various states, led by Michigan, began giving women the right to serve on juries as early as 1915. As one commentator observes:

"It is a curious quirk of mentality, indeed, which conceded women the ability to vote for the presidency, for the largest national issues, for state, county and local officials, yet not the ability to decide whether the man stole the $150 or not."

"The old arguments are still being advanced—it would cost too much to provide special quarters for women jurors, women lack logical judgment and make their decisions on sentiment, and so on."

It will have to be confessed that the final argument quoted by the commentator to whom we have referred would carry considerably more weight if there were clearly evident a spirit of sweet reasonableness and clear logic on the part of the male leaders of the world at the present time. Women may not always be completely logical in their judgment. But can men claim perfection in this or any other particular? And how long was it before the Canadian Parliament—the House of Commons is at present composed of 234 men and one woman—accepted the fact that a woman could, after all, be a person within the meaning of the British North America Act and, as such, entitled to a seat in the Senate?

Fascism and Coffee

WITH THE MAGNIFICENT ASSURANCE associated with the select disciples of the fascies, Signor Achille Starace, minister-secretary of the Fascist Party, has ordered the Roman nose cut off to spite the Brazilian face. In other words, he has ordered all able-bodied Fascists to cease drinking coffee, or cut down on it, to punish those coffee-producing countries which, in selling coffee to Italy, would like money in payment—not whatever goods Italy happens to be able to spare from the munitions drive at the moment.

This will possibly annoy the coffee-producing countries, though why Italy should wish to do this we do not know. We suspect that far more annoyed will be the coffee-drinking members of the party. But perhaps the more highly-placed members of that organization will find a way to get their coffee somehow. It will be the plain housewife, who finds it almost impossible to obtain coffee in the markets these days, who will feel the pinch—as usual.

Has Reason To Be Bitter

EVER SINCE HE CAME TO THIS CONTINENT, Dr. Eduard Benes, former president of Czechoslovakia, has been circumspection personified. All his public utterances have struck most people as being both wise and temperate, his courage and balance; under circumstances which he alone can understand, being all that could be desired by the most meticulous stickler for political propriety.

One of Dr. Benes' statements recently, however, has drawn considerable comment from a section of the United States press—one which, nevertheless, does not err when it mildly protests against snap or biased judgments. We are told, for example, that certain Slovak organizations have refused to support Benes' organization working for restoration of the Czech republic. They argue that their Slovak minority was heartlessly exploited by the ruling Czechs, therefore they will have nothing to do with the program. Dr. Benes is said to have retorted, however, that "those who are against the restoration of Czechoslovakia" (as it was in 1937) "are followers of Hitler."

One or two commentators evidently have taken Dr. Benes too literally and have not allowed for the fact that the "slaughter" of the republic over which he presided—its paradoxes and inequalities notwithstanding—was part of his very life, part of his life's work. The disappointment which he has had to swallow is a bitter one. On reflection, of course, his conception of democracy would insist that he qualify his judgments, even his opinion of "those who are against the restoration of Czechoslovakia." For it by no means follows that their view of a patriot's duty must conform to a hard-and-fast formula for the righting of what they believe to be wrongs.

Doctors have found a cure for trigeminal neuralgia, a painful disease. No more painful to have than to spell, though.

Movie stars must be having a tough time with this wave of patriotic pictures. It's hard to find a lead who knows all the words of the Star-Spangled Banner.

TIFF BETWEEN MILITARISTS

From Toronto Star
The reluctance of Japan to enter an armed alliance that might bring her into conflict with Britain and France—and, possibly, the United States, has angered the German foreign office, which, through its propaganda organ, has warned Japan of the consequences of adhering to another constellation in which it would have a more modest and more dangerous place. It suggests that Germany and Italy do not need in their combination foreign and heterogeneous elements or those that are animated by fear. Anger must have betrayed the German paper into these indiscreet expressions.

A Japanese newspaper that usually reflects the attitude of the army and that has been advocating an armed alliance with the totalitarian states, has replied in kind. It says that Japan is not under the vassalage or domination of Germany and Italy and that it entered the anti-comintern pact as a matter of convenience and not because it shared Fascist ideology. It contends that Japan can combat Communism without German or Italian aid and that she is impelled to collaborate with all powers who will co-operate with the "new order" in the Far East.

Open Letter To a Small Boy

SEVEN SUTHERLAND SISTERS

MY DEAR SON,—Perhaps you wondered why your dad burst into exclamations the other night when he was reading the paper he rescued from you before you had finished the funnies, and then read aloud to your mother an item about the Seven Sutherland Sisters. I don't suppose you ever heard of them before. They don't mean anything to you. But your dad was sad to hear that only one of those glowing, glorious women remained alive. They lived when they were home (which was not often) in New York State—and now only one of them remains. I wonder if her hair is as long as it used to be.

No, sonny, I'm not crazy. You see, that item in the paper brought to life again another boy. (Yes, you've guessed it. It was your daddy when he was little.) A little boy in short pants standing outside a drug store window with his nose pressed against the glass. He was looking at the Sutherland Sisters, all seven of them.

The seven sat in that drug store window in what looked, to your dad's eyes, to be their nightgowns. There was something vaguely naughty about the sight. There they sat in their nightgowns (they can't have been nighties!) all seven of them, and their hair was let down, and it fell to their feet. It was the most wonderful hair you ever saw—not that you've ever seen much, you poor little mutt, in these days of bobbed and shingled heads.

But in the days I'm talking of, son, all the women had long hair, and the longer it was, the more people thought it was wonderful; and the Sutherland Sisters had the longest long hair in all the world.

BOY WONDERINGS

IN THE SMALL TOWN where I lived, boy, some of the biggest events of the year centred around the advertising stunts that were put on from time to time. Every once in a while, down at the corner of Ward and Baker, some fellow would put up a platform with a couple of flaming acetylene lights or gas lamps, and he would put on a kind of Charlie McCarthy show, or a lightning calculator stunt, or do some song and dance, and after the crowd had collected he would sell whatever he had to sell—books, pain-killers, cough medicine or what not.

Now the Sutherland Sisters did not put on a show like that. They were more dignified. But they would sit in the drug store window, combing away at their hair or just sitting and looking beautiful (they all looked passing fair to a small boy) with their lovely, long hair falling in heaps and masses over their shoulders and down to the very ground; yes, sir, right down to the ground; and the crowd stood in front of the window and gawped at them for hours on end, with always a front row of little boys gawping harder than any of them.

Then the grown-ups would sneak into the drug store and buy bottles of the wonderful Sutherland Sisters hair tonic, or whatever it was, and the little boys would go galloping home to their mothers to tell them the big news from downtown.

"Was it really, truly hair, mum? Does it really belong to them? How do they make it grow that long, mum? Why isn't your hair as long as that, mum?"

After two or three days filled with gossip and excitement about the Sutherland Sisters, in which dark rumors spread abroad that it was all really a fake, and counter-rumors that the druggist swore on a stack of Bibles he knew it was real, for the Sisters had proved it to him, the Sutherland Sisters would move on to another town, and the excitement would die down. Those were the days.

LAST AGE OF INNOCENCE

YOU MAKE me kind of mad sometimes, kid, with all your modern sophistication, and the matter-of-fact way you take so many things for granted that I thought were so exciting when they happened first. You hardly look up when an airplane passes overhead, and when I was your age a balloon ascension at a country fair would keep me awake at night before and after it took place. I sometimes think, the way all fathers do, that you don't get the kick out of things the way I used to.

But you'd have got a bigger kick out of the Sutherland Sisters than I did, because you've never seen long hair. Your mother cut it off before I met her, which is before your time. So I wish the Sutherland Sisters were still going strong, and I'd take you down to the drug store window and watch your snub nose going up against the glass, just the way mine did. Then I'd take you home and listen to your mother trying to explain to you why she cut her hair off, and I'd get a big laugh out of hearing you ask her to grow it long, just to see if she could grow it as long as the Sutherland girls. (I bet you can't, mum? Why don't you try? Try just once, mum?)

And am I glad that I lived when I did, so that I can say now that I saw the Sutherland Sisters? Other big things have happened in the years since then. It's been kind of interesting all the time. But right now I can't remember anything that gave me more of a wallop than when I heard at school that the Sutherland Sisters were in town, and tore off down town to recess (it was only three blocks away) to the drug store to get into the crowd and look.

Your affectionate,

FATHER.

UNSEEMLY PROGRAM AT CITY HALL SHOULD BE CANCELED

To the Editor:—It may be rather late to suggest any change in the Royal program, but it had been supposed the suggestion of a reception in the Council Chamber of the City Hall would be ironed out by higher authority.

It appears decidedly unseemly to expect Their Majesties to leave their conveyance, climb the stairs to the Council Chamber for a reception in which the masses outside can have no part.

It would appear to be more in keeping with the celebrations throughout Canada for the Royal conveyance to halt in front of the City Hall long enough for the Mayor and aldermen to carry on from the steps or sidewalk, so as to create no break in the public welcome.

The fact of the restricted phase of the Council Chamber reception no doubt influenced the CBC to make no provision for it as part of the mass welcome.

WANTS ROYAL HOLIDAY

To the Editor:—Why should Victoria City be the exception by declaring only a half-holiday, in which to celebrate Their Majesties' visit. It surely is not very complimentary to our Royal guests. All subjects of King George should be given full time to celebrate royally such an occasion.

There will be little or no time for workers to return to work by midday, with transportation disrupted, etc. The many phone calls I've received complaining that a full holiday had not been declared is evidence of much unnecessary disappointment.

ALICE MCGREGOR.

WANTS FULL HOLIDAY

To the Editor:—In every other city throughout the Dominion of Canada a whole holiday was proclaimed when Their Majesties arrived. What right, may I ask, has Victoria to be an exception to the rule? As this is the first time in history that a King and Queen have ever crossed the Atlantic, and in all probability it will be the last, surely to goodness the City of Victoria can show its respect to Their Majesties by closing its stores for the day. To open them is most disloyal. I trust Victoria will in the end be able to take her place with the other cities of the Dominion by proclaiming a whole holiday. God bless Their Majesties.

MOTORCYCLE ESCORT

To the Editor:—Our membership and executive have noted with interest the letter from Mr. N. J. Coates, concerning the local Royal motorcycle escort.

Your reader wonders why the Victoria Motorcycle Club did not volunteer its services for this work in view of its proven ability and experience in this respect.

May we hasten to assure Mr. Coates that as long ago as last March the V.M.C. wrote to Mr. R. W. Mayhew at Ottawa offering its service during the Royal Visit, and a cordial reply was received in turn.

Let it be fully understood, however, that the club did not expect to be chosen as the actual body-guard escort—this by precedent being the prerogative of the military or official forces, but we should have been honored to act as a vanguard as we have done on previous occasions. We should like to inform all our many friends that our services will be utilized as special police lining the route.

M. GLASPELL,
Secretary.

"HAVE YOU SEEN THE QUEEN?"

To the Editor:—In my boyhood days in England we were told that to have seen the Queen entitled you to certain social privileges. Only those who had seen Queen Victoria were allowed to put their elbows on the table at meal times, for instance.

I am wondering what additional advantages might be due to those with the distinction of also having seen all the subsequent British sovereigns, and if my record in this respect can be equalled by other local residents.

In 1897 I saw Queen Victoria enter St. Paul's Cathedral to attend the service at King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra's opening of Birmingham University; King George V in Lewisham, London, and Edward VIII, who came here on two occasions as Prince of Wales, and I, of course, hope and expect to see King George VI when he arrives in Victoria next week.

As it is over a century since Queen Victoria ascended the throne, any resident of this city who can beat this record should be given a special seat at the forthcoming Royal reception.

Log of the Pilot Train

By Staff Correspondent
ABOARD THE PILOT TRAIN
Correspondents on the Pilot Train are now referred to as "Gentlemen of the Press." It is rather refreshing to find oneself cloaked with an air of respectability after some of the rather unvarnished epithets that have been used to describe the type-writer toilers.

We have been shown surprising courtesy all along the line. Police make way for us and officials are anxious that correspondents get the best impression of their cities so that they will be sure of good publicity.

The people of Nipigon sent a letter to "the Gentlemen of the Press" telling about the world record trout which was caught there. They made a practical gesture by sending along some of their famous trout for our supper—the night we passed through Nipigon.

At Winnipeg the Hudson's Bay Company presented "the gentlemen of the press on the Royal train" with a beautifully printed copy of the Beaver, their official magazine. It was accompanied by a brief history of the Hudson's Bay Company, a copy of the original charter, of 1670 and some information on the paying of rent for lands.

So the correspondents move westward with their new found title. No longer are we news-hawks, reporters or correspondents. We are "Gentlemen of the Press." But seeing we are so close to royalty perhaps we should have a title.

"Britain's New Alliances" will be the subject of an address to be given by E. E. Richards, under the auspices of the British-Israel World Federation next Wednesday at 8, in the Campbell Building auditorium. Mr. Richards will speak on the new foreign policy and the alliances now being made with Russia, Turkey and the Arabs by Great Britain and France. The line-up of the nations for the final conflict of the "great day of God Almighty" as shown in the great prophecies of the Bible and the new position of the Jews in Palestine will be dealt with.

Report of Community Chest

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Management of the Community Chest was held on Thursday, May 18, in the board room of The Royal Trust Company, Mr. F. E. Winslow, president, in the chair.

Mr. E. W. McMullen, honorary treasurer, reported that Mr. W. B. Lanigan was willing to act as vice-chairman of the Chest, and he was unanimously elected to that office.

May payments to agencies amounting to $6,146.00 were approved. A payment of $1,000 to the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp was approved on advice to the effect that the Camp would open on June 27, that four camps of two weeks each, for mothers and children, and a ten-day camp for teen-age girls would be held. It was reported for Mr. Duncan MacBride, campaign chairman, that he had secured Mr. W. P. D. Pemberton to act as vice-chairman of the next campaign. A budget committee, to consider the budgets of the agencies for 1940, consisting of Mr. A. E. Mallett (chairman), Mr. J. R. Nicolson, Mr. W. H. Molson, Mr. H. G. S. Heisterman, Mrs. W. MacAskill and Mrs. Carew Martin, was appointed by the President.

In reply to a question regarding payments to agencies in 1938, the secretary advised that payments had been made as follows:

Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital	$1,024.00
Auxiliary to St. Vincent's de Paul Society	1,341.59
Boy Scout's Association	1,100.00
Central Exchange	700.00

Saanich Welfare Association	3,000.00
St. John Ambulance Association	750.00
Victorian Order of Nurses	4,500.00
Women's Workroom	3,000.00
Young Men's Christian Association (current)	7,810.67
Young Men's Christian Association (on account 1937 deficit)	3,500.00
Young Women's Christian Association	5,689.25
Total	$67,896.83

Payments in 1939 to agencies on account of allotments for 1939, amount to date to $35,972.34.

A financial statement presented at the board meeting, showed, as of April 30, 1939, cash on hand $45,577.00. Accounts receivable $15,770.00. It was pointed out by the President that expenses for campaign and administration were being kept extremely low, and the financial position of the Chest at the present time showed a small reserve on hand.

Oak Bay Council Briefs

Oak Bay's 1939 local improvement program got under way at yesterday evening's meeting of the municipal council with the introduction of 21 by-laws covering various street-paving and sidewalk-building projects. Only one item in the year's program—the paving of Guernsey Street—was canceled because of opposition by more than half the ratepayers affected.

The municipality's by-law list passed the 1,000 figure during the evening. Oak Bay was incorporated 33 years ago. Plans for a palatial $20,000 home to be built on the Uplands waterfront at the foot of Humber Road for a Zeballos mining magnate were approved by the council. Planned in more or less broad-arrow shape on one of the finest scenic sites in the municipality, the house will have an assay room as well as workshops and a large laundry with a separate drying room in the basement.

The council voted the regular yearly grant of $50 to the city of Victoria for upkeep of the Oak Bay and of Gonzales Bay beach. A letter from legal representatives of the Tax Owners' Association of Greater Victoria asking that Oak Bay set minimum rates similar to those in effect in the city and require the installation of meters in cabs was tabled for further discussion.

Tribute to the council's financial policy was contained in a letter from Franco-Canadian Co. Limited, operators of The Uplands, which read in part: "We are very gratified to learn that the local improvement levies have been so materially reduced by your successful handling of the sinking fund account. This is something new in our experience, and we could not let the occasion pass without complimenting you on such an achievement."

WILL REPRESENT 'Y' IN HOLLAND

Alex. Hall Delegate to World Christian Youth Conference

At the monthly meeting of the Y.M.C.A. board of directors Tuesday it was announced by the Religious and Foreign Work Committee that Alex. Hall, one of the members, would be sent to the World Christian Youth Conference to be held in Amsterdam, Holland, July 24 to August 2.

Mr. Hall would attend a second World Y.M.C.A. Conference in Holland immediately following the first meeting. He would be one of eight official Canadian delegates, the committee reported.

The physical department report showed an increase in attendance at sessions during the month over previous years. There were 206 sessions last month with 2,951 attendances. In 1938 there were 189 sessions with 2,831 in attendance.

The committee reported, among other things, that the association building had been used for dressing and showers by the Dominions basketball club during the final playoffs for the Dominion title. Track and field activities were favorable and the swimming group were holding handicap meets weekly. Other reports heard were finance, circus, boys' work, social and educational and house.

NEW WHITER PAINT STARTS WHITER . . . STAYS WHITER

BEFORE developing C-I-L "Trutone" White, C-I-L research chemists surveyed the whole field of white paints. They realized that attractive though white houses are, most white paints soon lose their original glamour . . . soon become dull and faded.

But now, in "TRUTONE" WHITE PAINT, C-I-L has introduced an exterior finish that both starts whiter and stays whiter! "Trutone" White starts whiter because an exclusive C-I-L formula makes it that way. Stays whiter because it resists dirt and grime . . . actually sheds dirt. Yet in spite of these advantages "Trutone" White costs you no more! In fact, it's more economical because it hides better, spreads farther, lasts longer!

This year, give your home more lasting distinction with "Trutone" White. You'll see the difference at once, and know that the difference will last! of Mr. and Mrs. J. Grosart, assisted by H. Woolton and N. W. West.

A dance was held in the Community Hall in the evening.

The Prince Rupert tax rate for 1939 was approved by the Provincial Government today at 47½ mills on land and 35 per cent of the assessed value of improvements. Last year's rate was 50 mills on land and 25 per cent of improvements.

Bank clearings in the city for the week ending today were $1,408,415, according to a statement issued by the Victoria Clearing House. Figures for the same period last year were $1,371,189.

British Movies Gaining in Favor

Hollywood Publicity Man Says Success in United States Growing

British pictures, and particularly the fiction of British actors, are finding steadily greater favor in the United States, according to Bert W. Holloway, assistant publicity director of Paramount Pictures, who is in Victoria on a short combined business and holiday visit.

Mrs. Holloway, who is with her husband, is a concert singer and recently ended a successful season in New York.

Mr. Holloway said this morning the 400 writers who represent newspapers, magazines and news services in Hollywood, and who largely shape the screen taste of the United States public, were at present taking a great interest in British movies.

On the strength of the success of "The Beachcomber," Paramount was arranging to distribute three more Laughton-Pommer productions, he said.

He referred to the success of such "big westerns" as "Union Pacific," and said that on the strength of it his company would soon start work in Canada on an epic entitled "The Royal Canadian Mounted Police."

Mrs. Holloway interjected at this point that she had always understood an epic was something costing at least $3,000,000.

Mr. Holloway explained he meant the word in its original sense.

SCOUT NEWS

ST. MARY'S SCOUTS

St. Mary's Troop meeting was opened by duty patrol leader Johnny Jones, with 45 Scouts and leaders present. At the opening ceremonies the following Scouts received their ambulance badges, after having passed in the recent St. John Ambulance course examinations: Charles Maunsell, Bob Aldritt, Selby Taylor, Bill Rourke and Herb Fulthorp. Several others also qualified for their annual repassing of this badge. Following roll call and inspection, an outdoor stalking game was played; several lively games indoors were then played. A patrol competition first-aid problem was worked out and it was announced that each patrol would compete in a game dramatizing this problem at the annual St. Mary's group garden party, to be held on Saturday, June 10, at the garden of R. H. Palmer, York Place. Following the investiture of five new Scouts—Jerry McKechnie, Scott Kerr, Harry Erickson, Geoff Cridge and Ken Travis—a bunched in celebration of the troop's victory in the swimming gala was enjoyed. Final and detailed information on the troop's part in the Royal Visit will be given out this Friday. Scouts are instructed to be on hand at the meeting, with notebooks and pencils.

Lumber Export Takes Jump

Waterborne Trade Up 12 Per Cent And Logging Gains

Increased logging activity in British Columbia this year was reflected today in figures showing a 50 per cent increase in the provincial log scale and a gain of nearly 12 per cent in the waterborne export of lumber from the province.

Exports in April reached the record figure for foreign markets in one month of 106,334,297 board feet with another 12,925,503 going to domestic markets in the United States and eastern Canada.

This brought to 432,866,923 board feet the waterborne export for the first four months of the year, an increase of 50,000,000 feet over last year. Empire and foreign markets took 361,732,050 feet of this, the rest being to eastern Canada and the U.S.

The United Kingdom remains by far the biggest customer, taking approximately 70 per cent of the overseas lumber. Australia is second. United Kingdom shipments in April reached the high mark of 77,242,591 board feet.

Meanwhile the additional work in the logging camps was shown in an increase from 572,401,085 to 851,926,355 board feet in the raw log scale for the first four months. In April alone the scale was 264,192,251 board feet, an increase of 60,000,000 feet over April, 1938.

Electric Services Extension Discussed.

Extension of electrical services in rural areas is being discussed this week with the B.C. Electric Railway Company by S. R. Weston, New Brunswick power expert, engaged as adviser by the British Columbia Public Utilities Commission.

Mr. Weston went to Vancouver last night to meet company officials.

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, commission chairman, said Mr. Weston is not making definite proposals to the company at this state, but is familiarizing himself with the general problem of rural electrification. During the last week Mr. Weston has been in the interior studying the situation.

BATTALION HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

A banquet attended by over 100 members of the 88th Battalion.

C.E.F., Victoria Fusiliers, was held in Spencer's dining-room Tuesday evening to commemorate the 23rd anniversary of the departure of the unit overseas.

Carew Martin, chairman, in welcoming the guests, many of them from distant points, said they had done their share in upholding democracy.

The toast to the battalion was proposed by L. de S. Duke, who spoke of the spirit of good will and comradeship in the unit.

Response was made by Col. J. R. Kingham, who referred to the early history of the unit.

The toast to the Empire was proposed by A. Goddard and replied to by H. Despard Twigg.

Mr. Twigg appealed to the members of the unit to assist in lining the Royal procession route.

Members of the committee responsible for the success of the banquet were: Carew Martin, P. H. Walker, T. Dempster, A. Hunt, E. W. Maynard, R. Sneddon and G. Turner.

Entertainment was supplied by a group of artists and the orchestra was under the direction of Albert Rumsby.

The program was as follows: A. Weatherill, vocal solos; A. D. Crease, lantern slides; T. Groves, saxophone solos; A. Hunt, violin solos, and G. Edwards, songs.

Jerry Schofield was accompanist.

After the banquet a wreath, replica of the cap badge worn by members of the battalion, was placed on the cenotaph in Parliament Square.

Queen to Influence Styles in U.S.

By Staff Correspondent with the Royal Party

ABOARD THE PILOT TRAIN

The chief concern of the women correspondents on this train is to get accurate descriptions of everything the Queen wears.

We were stopped on a siding when the Royal train caught up. All correspondents wanted to know if anything unusual had taken place. The press liaison officer on the Royal train referred to the stop at White River. It was cold at White River so a woman correspondent asked what the Queen wore. That did it. From then on the conversation revolved around the Queen's apparel, but the officer was a bit perplexed.

"She had on a fur coat," he said. You know it was cold.

"What kind of a fur coat?" It was the first time the Queen had appeared in one.

The women offered suggestions as to what it might be.

"We'd like to know," said one. "Every woman in the United States wants to know what she wears. That's the biggest story for them. Can't you get someone to describe it for you? One of the ladies-in-waiting."

"I'm sorry the ladies-in-waiting don't like to describe them. It's the dressmaker that does it."

The official promised to have the information at the next stop.

The English correspondents are quite pleased with the beautiful dresses which Her Majesty is wearing. They say that her clothes improved when she switched from a woman to a man dress designer.

The Duchess of Kent is greatly admired for her fine clothes and her ability to wear them, but Queen Elizabeth will unquestionably be the one who will affect the styles of many parts of the feminine world.

I think the most dazzling dress I have seen her in was that worn for the ceremony in the State Chamber at Ottawa. It made her seem fairylike, and baffled the power of any woman, outside of the dressmaker, to describe it.

CLUB CONVENTION

At the weekly Rotary Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel yesterday, Walter Luney, president-elect, and Dr. W. J. Sipprell gave accounts of the recent Rotary international convention held in Juneau, Alaska, which they attended as delegates of the local organization.

Mr. Luney, who will assume his new office at the first meeting of the club in July, reported on the entertainment end of the convention, while Dr. Sipprell gave an account of the business and conference portion of the conference.

Morris Greene told the members that through the courtesy of Carl Pendray the Bapeo Paint wharf in the Inner Harbor had been turned over to the boys' work section of the club which would sell tickets for spectators of the arrival of Their Majesties on board Ss. Princess Marguerite Monday evening.

A communication was read from the Port Angeles Rotary Club in which the hope was expressed that they could do something in co-operation with the locals to create a spirit of international goodwill during the stay of Their Majesties in Victoria. A display of fireworks would be given at Port Angeles by the group Tuesday evening.

G. Hamilton Harman presided. Cyril Orme was welcomed as a new member.

SEEKS TO KEEP GOLD FROM REICH

Lloyd George Urges London Continue to Hold Czech Assets

LONDON (AP)—David Lloyd George received a promise from the government today to seek further legal advice on whether it can prevent Germany from acquiring about $25,000,000 of partitioned Czechoslovakia's gold assets.

The money has been held by the Bank of England for the Bank of International Settlements, to which it was entrusted by the Czechoslovak National Bank.

Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, previously had declared the government had found there was no way to prevent the transfer.

Mr. Lloyd George asked in the House of Commons whether the treasury could not raise the issue in court in order to obtain legal advice as to the right to suspend payment until ownership is finally settled. Sir John agreed to consider the proposal.

I.O.D.E. Protest at Stores Opening On Tuesday

Also object to Use Of Central Park As Circus Ground

A protest against the local stores opening on Tuesday, on the occasion of the Royal Visit, is being sent to the Mayor and City Council by the Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E.

This was decided upon at the monthly meeting of the chapter held yesterday afternoon at headquarters, Mrs. K. C. Symons, the regent, presiding. The meeting also will voice a protest to the civic authorities against the use of Central Park as a circus ground. It was pointed out during the discussion that children were forbidden to use the park some time ago when seeding and other changes were being made, and it was felt that the damage to be done by children would not compare with the damage effected by circus paraphernalia. The meeting also disapproved of the omission of the National Anthem at the close of several functions lately.

ALEXANDRA ROSE DAY

June 24 was chosen as the date of Alexandra Rose Day this year, and will be convened by municipal officers at headquarters. Intercession service will be held on Sunday morning, May 28, at Christ Church Cathedral, with the Gonzales Chapter and the Municipal standardbearer in charge of the arrangements.

Reports were given by various officers and conveners; Mrs. R. Shanks telling of the Empire Day service and Mrs. C. Wallace Wilson of the luncheon. Mrs. Symons announced that space was being reserved for the I.O.D.E. on Tuesday in Beacon Hill Park near the Chinese bell, and that the standards would also attend in Oak Bay during the morning.

Mrs. Gordon Smith told of sending seeds from the Butchart gardens to the International Peace Garden; Mrs. E. Allen and Mrs. Symons reported on the Girl Guides, Navy League and Sea Cadets preparations of the Royal Visit; Mrs. Wm. Ellis, for distinguished visitors, told of flowers and greetings sent to several notables who had visited the city.

RETURNING GRAVES

Mrs. C. W. Plumb reported that 12 soldiers' graves will be levelled and returned; Mrs. Ernest Eve reported on transportation to the provincial meeting; Mrs. R. L. Green, film convener, noted that chapters will be asked to sponsor the film "Sixty Glorious Years," and to sell tickets; Mrs. P. E. Corby reported for reports from the chapters on the emergency service as soon as possible.

Mrs. E. O. Weston read the treasurer's report; Mrs. F. F. Beckett, educational secretary, told of the presentation of the Saram Maxwell memorial prize; Mrs. J. T. Jones appealed for more subscribers to "Echoes," Mrs. George Mellor, child welfare convener, reported several needy families, and Mrs. George Miles, for work in India, noted that nine members of the Royal Bridge Chapter are corresponding with students at the St. Helena School at Poon. Mrs. J. W. Cashmore reported as standard-bearer.

Prior to the opening of business, the chapter passed a standing silent tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Allan Fraser, a former member of Major Heben Gillespie Chapter.

The monthly meeting of the Langford Women's Institute was held in the hall on Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen presiding. Mrs. R. F. Smith presented the financial report.

Arrangements were made for a garden party to be held at the home of Mrs. J. Stuart-Yates, June 20.

Royal Gift Sent to London Bride

Lady Diana Percy
Wed in Silver;
Fourteen Attendants

(By Times Correspondent)

LONDON—One of the most fashionable weddings of the season took place at Westminster Abbey on April 30, when two of England's best-known families—the Percys and the Egertons—were joined in matrimony by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The bride was Lady Diana Evelyn Percy, youngest daughter of the late Duke of Northumberland. Her mother is Mistress of the Robes of the Queen, and both the King and Queen had taken a keen interest in the wedding. Their gift was a beautiful diamond swallow clip.

The bridegroom, Viscount Blackley, is the son and heir of the Earl and Countess of Ellesmere.

FOURTEEN ATTENDANTS

It was one of the most beautiful weddings which I have ever attended. The bride's dress was of light, supple silver lame with a rucked centre seam. The neck was heart-shaped and the skirt was straight in front, bursting into fullness at the back behind the knee. The sleeves were long and tight with pointed cuffs. The three-yard-long train, decorated with old Brussels lace, was a family heirloom which had belonged to the bride's great-grandmother, a former Duchess of Richmond. Through the lace of her veil Lady Percy's red-gold hair gleamed. Her headdress consisted of a coronet of pearls and in the crook of her arm she carried a sheaf of pure white lilies tied with large silver ribbon bows.

The dresses of the eight older bridesmaids were in white net—semi-crinoline in style. Their skirts were embroidered on the hips with sequins, and crystal beads and similar embroidery appeared on their bodices and fitted coats. The four little bridesmaids were also in white net, with their skirts and bodices lightly powdered with silver stars of sequins. Their frocks had heart-shaped necklines and puffed sleeves, while wide bows were tied at their waist. On their heads they wore silver bandeaux with tiny stars, which glittered as they moved.

Miss Raynee Govier, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Govier of Vancouver, who is to be married to Mr. George Butler of Victoria, son of Mr. George Butler and the late Mrs. Butler. The wedding will take place early in June at the home of the bride's parents.

A most effective splash of color was introduced by the large bouquets of scarlet carnations which they carried. The two pages were in white satin Romney suits.

Over 1,000 guests attended the ceremony, including the pick of London society, but I think the most picturesque guest was Mrs. Polly Donkin, an 83-year-old fisherwoman from Cullercoats, Northumberland. She is well known as a collector for the Lifeboat Institution and was decorated for her services by the Duke of Windsor when Prince of Wales. She wore her traditional fisherwoman's dress, a full black dress, with a hand-embroidered silk shawl and grey silk apron. She had bought a new bonnet for the occasion, made secure with a big black safety-pin.

She was not abashed by her first visit to London and was brought to the microphone by the B.B.C. in the evening to give her impressions of the great metropolis.

"Solemn thing marriage is," she said. "A knot you tie with your tongue but can't undo with your teeth."

WEDDINGS

NICHOLS-WOODWARD

Arum lilies and roses were used in decoration of the Baptist Church at San Mateo, California, on Tuesday afternoon at 2.45 when Rev. J. Osbourne united in marriage Phyllis Deborah, youngest daughter of Mrs. A. J. Woodward, "Clovelly," North Quadra Street, Victoria, and Mr. Hugh Nelson Stuart Nichols, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols of San Mateo.

Given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Alan A. Woodward, the dark-haired bride wore a gown of ecru lace, the neckline ornamented with a pearl clasp. She wore a white petal hat and carried a bouquet of Butterfly roses. Her only bridesmaid was Miss Norah Nichols, sister of the bridegroom, wearing a frock of shell pink lace with a wide-brimmed hat, and carrying a bouquet of blue delphiniums and sweet peas. Mr. Douglas Nichols, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. John Nichols and Mr. Frank E. Birtwhistle.

A reception was held later at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in San Mateo, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Woodward, mother of the bride, wearing a gown of pearl grey georgette and a corsage bouquet of red roses, and by the groom's mother, whose gown was of orchid sheer, and her corsage bouquet of violets. Sweetheart roses and a profusion of summer flowers were used in the decoration of the reception room. After a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, for which the bride left wearing a smart navy blue traveling costume with Mayflower lilac accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols will make their home in San Mateo.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ralph Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Woodward of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Nichols, Sacramento; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Birtwhistle, Santa Barbara; Mrs. A. J. Woodward and Miss Gladys Woodward, Victoria.

GRAY-JUSTICE

The marriage of Lena Violet Clive, younger daughter of Major and Mrs. Clive Justice, to Thomas Arthur Eric Gray, late of Cheltenham, England, was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meredith, College Street, Duncan, Tuesday, Rev. W. F. Burns officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of orchid chiffon, a picture hat of silver grey straw, grey shoes and accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of pink carnations and lily of the valley, and she also wore a gold wrist watch, the gift of the bridegroom. Mrs. Allan Duggan, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, wearing a Canton silk suit in beige, lace blouse, and hat to match. Mr. Clive C. Justice acted as best man.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served by Mrs. Meredith, at which only intimate friends and relatives were present. Mrs. Justice, the bride's mother, wore a white and blue flowered silk ensemble, small hat, and matching accessories.

The young couple left for their honeymoon, the bride traveling in a grey suit with accessories in maroon shades. On their return they will live at Prospect Lake.

NEILSON — RHODE

A quiet wedding was solemnized at noon yesterday at the home of the bride's mother, when Jessie Irene, youngest daughter of Mrs. W. Rhode and the late W. Rhode, Central Saanich Road, was united in marriage to Martin Anton Neilson, eldest son of Mr. N. P. Neilson and the late Mrs. Neilson, Garson, Manitoba.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. M. Perley of Sidney United Church, with only immediate members of the family present.

The bride wore a navy blue tailored suit, with navy turban and black accessories and a corsage bouquet of palest pink carnations. The bride and groom were unattended.

After the ceremony the family sat down to a dainty luncheon, the table being centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and silver vases with rosebuds and sweet peas. The house was decorated with snap dragons, carnations and iris. Later the bride and groom left on the afternoon boat for Seattle, the bride placing a bouquet of flowers at the cemetery in memory of her father.

Children Saved By Fisherman's Action

NANAIMO—The prompt action of E. Peterson, a fisherman, probably saved the lives of four-year-old Margaret Silva and her 15-year-old brother yesterday. Peterson seized a fire extinguisher and rushed to their aid after being awakened by the screams of the little girl and seeing flames issuing from the cabin of the Silva fishing boat moored alongside at the Farmers' Landing here.

Yung Silvia had attempted to light the gasoline stove, but became excited when a few flames spread along the burner. He seized what he thought was a can of water standing nearby and threw the contents on the stove. The liquid was gasoline, and the cabin of the boat was immediately enveloped by flames.

Margaret, standing close by, was severely burned about the legs and back, and was taken to the office of Dr. Menzies and Browne for treatment.

Sooke

SOOKE—A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. S. McBride Wednesday when members of the Holy Trinity Church met in honor of A. Burge, who has held office as church warden for several terms and who is leaving Sooke Saturday for England.

Rev. H. M. Bolton, on behalf of the members, presented Mr. Burge with a pipe and tobacco pouch and wished him bon voyage. A competition was held during the evening, the prize-winners being Mrs. W. Locke and A. Burge.

Earliest fossil members of the dog family are found on the American continent.

By PETE SALLAWAY

TO THE OLYMPIC GAMES on a parade of Canadian nickels. That is the well-merited plan of Jack Hulland, superintendent of education for the Yukon Territory, located at Dawson. Word of this latest scheme to provide more than sufficient funds for Canadian athletes to travel to Finland next year was brought to Victoria this week by J. A. Barnwell, well-known local sportsman and manager of the former Canadian champion Blue Ribbons basketball team, who returned from a seven weeks' trip throughout the Yukon country.

Hulland's scheme is for the nickels to be donated by Canada's school children. While in Dawson Barnwell had a long chat with Hulland, and was so enthused over the plan that he intends to take the matter up with Warren Martin, president of the British Columbia branch of the Amateur Athletic Union, with a view to having the scheme properly supervised and adopted throughout the Dominion.

Although the school kiddies of the Yukon follow their sport through the newspapers and radio they are plenty sport-minded. They know their athletes from track to ping-pong and follow the fortunes of Canadian performers with much enthusiasm. Hulland, like his pupils, is a keen sport follower, and with the co-operation of the youngsters had been able to introduce this new plan that may prove an epic one in the history of Canadian sport.

Children in all the schools of the Yukon Territory have donated their five-cent pieces and Hulland intends to forward the money to the Amateur Athletic Union. This enthusiastic supporter of Canadian sport has estimated that if every school child in Canada was to donate five cents the sum of $200,000 could be raised to send athletes from this Dominion to the Olympics in 1940.

Such a sum would more than look after the expenses of the Canadian team and any money that was left over could be devoted to the development of this country's athletic material. Hulland's one stipulation in raising his fund was that no child could give more than a nickel.

Speaking on the plan today Barnwell said: "The enthusiasm of Hulland and his school children is something that is to be admired, and I can truthfully say these northern Canadian youngsters are certainly sincere in their efforts. They have read of the difficulties that always arise when it comes time to raise the necessary funds to send Canada's athletes to the Olympic games, and figure that in this way the Dominion's representatives will be able to travel without the worry of lack of funds."

The plan is one of the best we have ever heard put forth. If a group of children in the far north can display such sportsmanship and interest in Canadian sport their efforts deserve the assistance and co-operation of everyone. What a Canadian-minded school child would not be willing to give five cents to such a cause? What matter if the five-cent piece should come out of father's or mother's pocket? No parent would refuse such a request. And how much easier to secure a five-cent donation from a youngster than a $1 from grown-ups.

Heavily-backed Favorite Captures Classic for Fillies at Epsom

EPSOM, Eng. (CP)—R. S. Clark's Galatea II, a brown filly by Dark Legend from Galadaya II, today won the Oaks for three-year-old fillies to hang up her second classic triumph of the season. White Fox finished second by a head with Superbe third three lengths farther back.

Galatea II, winner of the One Thousand Guineas April 28 and 10 to 11 odds-on favorite today, outgained Edward Simond's French-bred White Fox in a neck-and-neck duel up the hill to the finish, while the Duchess of Marlborough's Superbe, a 20 to 1 outsider, came out of the rack in the stretch to place. White Fox was quoted at 9 to 1 in the field of 21.

Weather conditions were favorable and there was another large attendance.

There was heavy support for the American-owned Galatea II, and only Lord Glanely's Olein and White Fox were seriously backed to beat her.

EARLY RUNNING
Ballathie and Kitty Frisk got away in front, but set a slow pace, and at the top of the hill Titbit moved into the lead, followed by Olein, Aurora, Ella A, Wilhelmina, Sugar Kandy with Galatea II rated along nicely by Jockey Jones about midway in the field.

Coming down the hill Aurora took the lead briefly, but Olein took command again followed by Parella, Aurora and Galatea II, who was beginning to make her move.

Approaching dangerous Tattenham Corner Galatea II worked into third place, and on reaching the straight the American-owned filly raced past Olein and Ella A and began to draw away followed by Sonnie Wench, Superbe, White Fox and Arsenal.

Galatea II faltered 200 yards from home and White Fox made a drive along the rails, but Galatea rallied and fought off the challenge to win by a head in 2 minutes 9.2 seconds, almost four seconds slower than Blue Peter's Derby time for the course.

Sonnie Wench was fourth, Arsenal fifth and Castilian Princess last. Curtain Call slipped rounding Tattenham Corner, unseating Jockey Nevett, but there were no injuries.

Golf Winners at Uplands Links

Mrs. C. Belcher and G. Silburn were the winners of a mixed greensomes played at the Uplands Golf Club on May 24, with a score of 91 gross, which their handicap reduced to a net 65. In runner-up position, Lady A. C. Coll and Russell Ard ran close with 86—19½—66½.

The best gross score was turned in by Gordon Craig and Mrs. James McIlraith with a 76, closely followed by Vic Painter and Mrs. I. South with 78.

In the approaching competition the winners were Mrs. J. McIlraith and Vic Painter.

In the putting competition Mrs. Fred W. Goodman and Fred W. Goodman were the winners.

Competitions were followed by a dinner in the clubhouse, when the prizes were presented to the winners by Mrs. J. McIlraith.

Cards Battle Reds

St. Louis and Cincinnati Open Crucial National League Baseball Series

Every once in a while the schedule makers come up with a natural like the National League four-game series—opening today between St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds.

Some people might think that since every team in each league plays every other team, the leaders would be brought together regularly in "crucial contests." But in a circuit like the National, where the leaders are shuffled for every deal, this is a difficult trick.

The Cardinals went into the series with a percentage advantage of .690 to .677. But the clubs were deadlocked in the matter of games won and lost, and both sport creditable winning streaks.

The Reds scribbled their 10th straight into the books yesterday, 6 to 3 over New York Giants. Only three hits were given by Whitney Moore and Gene Thompson, but the former forgot himself in the eighth inning long enough to walk four batters and force in a run.

There was no question at stake by that time, however, because Ernie Lombardi had hit his seventh home run in the fourth and the Giants' defence had collapsed behind Carl Hubbell to let in three runs and figure in two others.

SEVENTH STRAIGHT

The Cardinals maintained their shade advantage by beating Boston Bees 7 to 1 for their seventh in a row.

Brooklyn Dodgers, who won the first game of their western trip and then tied one and lost six straight, returned home in good spirit by finishing the tour with an 8 to 1 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. This was sufficient to lift them into sixth place over their worst enemies, the Giants. The Phillies nosed out Chicago Cubs 8 to 7 in the other National League game.

Bob Feller, already well into his best season, turned in a one-hitter to shut out Boston Red Sox 11 to 0 in the American League's brightest game. His Cleveland Indian mates chose the day for target practice, Ken Keltner tagging three pitches for home runs and Hal Trosky getting a homer, a double and a single to account for four runs.

Although reduced to four hits, New York Yankees got back in the winning column after a day's absence by belting Detroit Tigers 5 to 2 for Red Ruffing's seventh victory without defeat this season and the 200th of his major league career.

Al Alexandra, born Alexander Carrasquel, rookie pitcher who allowed only four hits his last previous start, cut this sum to three as Washington Senators beat St. Louis Browns 4 to 1 in the day's other game.

Shore Seeks To Buy Club

Boston Hockey Star May Retire If He Purchases Springfield Franchise

BOSTON (AP)—Eddie Shore's possible purchase of the Springfield franchise in the International-American Hockey League would mean his retirement as a player, according to owner Wes Adams of Boston Bruins.

Adams said the Bruins management would not stand in Shore's way if he desires to become a club owner but would refuse to permit him to become a player-manager.

"We believe Eddie has at least two more years of high class hockey in his system," Adams said, "but we will give him his release if he wants to retire as a player. But if he intends to continue playing hockey, it will be in a Bruins' uniform."

Shore, who has agreed to the terms of Lucien Garneau of Quebec, is one of several groups interested in the Springfield club. Garneau lost control, but he has until June 1 to dispose of the franchise, provided the sale is approved by the International-American League directors and the club stockholders.

Armstrong Must Rest

World Welter Champ Has Two Injured Hands Following Bout With Roderick

LONDON (AP)—Henry Armstrong, who bruised both hands badly in punching Ernie Roderick, will have a complete rest until he goes into training about the middle of July for his second fight with Lou Ambers in New York August 9.

An easy victor last night over Roderick, who challenged for his world welterweight championship, Armstrong nevertheless damaged his hands so much he will have to consult doctors here and in Paris. Trainer Harry Armstrong said apparently no bones were broken, but the hands were swollen severely and that, because of their weakened condition, a complete rest was required.

Later it was announced an X-ray examination showed that Armstrong had a split bone in his left thumb and that the hand

Zulu Giants Play Here Next Week

Colored Comedians of Baseball Meet Victoria All-stars in Three Games

With Prince Rusto returning with a bag of new acts to provide the humorous side of the show while his dusky brethren play the game, the touring African Zulu Giants will open a three-game series Monday night at Athletic Park against Victoria All-Star baseballers.

Other games will be played Tuesday and Wednesday nights, all starting at 5.30.

The grass-skirted Zulus drew well in their series here last year, their mixture of good baseball and comedy making a big hit with the fans. The team will be pretty much the same as last year. Included in the lineup is Big Chief Bolo, six-foot-seven centrefielder. He was the last who poled the apple about half a block beyond Pembroke Street fence last year.

The performances of Victoria All-Stars against Vancouver Low-nays on Wednesday will probably result in Manager Fred McInnes making a number of changes in the team's personnel.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTION

Tonight's senior baseball attraction will take place at the enclosure, with Manager Bill Bridgewood's Eagles meeting Athletics. The feathered tribe is one game behind the joint leaders, Athletics and Navy. Game will start at 6.15.

TWIN BILL TOMORROW

A second division double-header is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at Athletic Park as minor league teams take the diamond to improve their positions in the standings. First game at 2.15 will bring together Cubs, who have been undefeated in four starts, and Brown Bombers. Second game between Eagles and Pitzer and Nex will start immediately after the finish of the first.

LAST NIGHT'S SCORES

Cubs' fourth triumph was posted last night when they nosed out Oak Bay, 6 to 5, at Oak Bay Park, in a Humphries' Cup fixture.

The winners did all their scoring in the first two frames, a lead that just barely carried them to victory. Acres, Cubs' mound ace, bumped into trouble in the last four frames and just managed to avert a tie in the last frame when he breezed three Oak Bay batters in succession with the equalizing run on third base. After Cubs' two big opening innings, Holmes, Oak Bay twirler, held them scoreless for the rest of the evening.

A homer in the sixth by B. Murdoch accounted for two of Oak Bay's runs.

Cedar Hill Athletics met defeat by a 7 to 3 count at the hands of Brown Bombers in another second division game at Beacon Hill Park. The Bombers broke a 2 to 2 deadlock in the fourth and spurred to victory.

ADANACS SCORE TAME VICTORY

Defeat Richmond 15 to 10 In Slow Box Lacrosse Clash On Mainland

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—New Westminster Adanacs were back in top spot with Vancouver Burrards in the Intercity Box Lacrosse League today and went into retirement until next Monday, when they clash here with their home-town rivals, Salmonbellies.

Last night Adanacs stopped Richmond Farmers 15 to 10 to mark up their third win of the season, after one of the dullest games on record.

Adanacs went into a slim 5 to 4 lead at the end of the first quarter, and added another four goals in the second while holding the Farmers scoreless.

The New Westminster squad outscored Richmond 5 to 2 in the third period before Richmond came to life in the last quarter to sink four goals in the net, while Adanacs sniped a singleton.

Jimmy Douglas topped Adanacs snipers with three goals and two assists, while Ken McGuire was best for the Farmers with three goals and one assist.

Boys' Club Members Plan Royal Welcome

The Victoria Boys' Athletic and Hobby Club has a novel idea in the way of a welcome for the King and Queen. On the evening of May 29, at 9, on Their Majesties' arrival, the boys and young men of the club are organizing a group on the Bapeo wharf at 200 Belleville Street, to be the first Victorians to cheer the King and Queen into the city. The dock has been cleared to hold over 1,000 people, and floodlights have been arranged so that when the Royal ship passes by the end of the wharf just before it docks, the group will be clearly seen as well as heard by the King and Queen.

The Bapeo wharf is being lent the Athletic and Hobby Club through the kindness of J. Carl Pendray, and the boys plan, with the cheer-minded citizens of Victoria, to give a royal welcome to their King and Queen. Everyone is invited and the proceeds will go towards furthering the work being done by the club for the boys of Victoria.

Drop in Germany's Foreign Trade

BERLIN (AP)—A drop in Germany's foreign trade during April, disclosed in figures published today, showed that the desired results have not yet been produced by Chancellor Hitler's warning to the Reichstag January 30 that Germany must "export or die."

The April trade figures, however, showed the first foreign trade balance favorable to Germany in many months.

Lester and Murray Patrick Are Home

Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers in the National Hockey League, accompanied by his son, Murray, bustling defenceman of the club, arrived back in Victoria Wednesday morning to spend the summer months at their home, 242 Linden Avenue. Mrs. Lester Patrick and their other son, Lynn, the latter accompanied by his wife, reached Victoria several weeks ago.

Having spent several weeks in Florida, following the close of the hockey season, Lester and Murray were in fine spirits and looking fine. The elder Patrick later attended a meeting of the N.H.L. in Boston.

The steel used in automobile bodies has an average thickness of about one-sixteenth of an inch.

Beavers ordinarily build dams 50 to 200 feet long, but a big one in Montana crosses 2,140 feet of water.

According to manufacturers, the average price a pound of an automobile has decreased from 74 cents in 1920 to 26 cents in 1939.

'Lock Homes' Is Police Warning

Precautions to Prevent Crime During Royal Visit Outlined

The plain clothes department of the city police force today issued warning to Victoria citizens to exercise caution in protecting their property during the Royal Visit celebrations here.

In anticipation of an influx of prowlers, pickpockets and thieves of various colors, the department has prepared a brief statement of the operations of different types of criminals in the hope some thieving might be prevented.

The statement follows:

SHORT CHANGE

The methods used in this racket are known as the $1, $5 and $10 lay.

Two or three persons ordinarily work this swindle, although it can be done by one. Obvious reasons prevent giving in detail the working of this racket. The idea of the operator, who make a small purchase in odd cents, usually 35 cents, is to confuse and distract the clerk's attention when making change.

PICKPOCKETS

The places selected by these persons, some of whom are women, are crowds. Do not carry your money or valuables in your hip pocket, or in pockets of your outer garments. Such pockets are the most accessible to the pickpockets. Do not regard jostling or pushing in a crowd or crowded street as accidental. Be suspicious of people who jostle you.

HOUSE PROWLERS

Do not leave your home or apartment until you are sure that every door and window is securely fastened. Do not leave your key over the door or under the mat. Do not think your money or valuables are safe when hidden behind pictures, under rugs or dresser scarves, in briefcases, mattresses, or in cooking utensils. These are first places a crook will look for them. Notify your police department if suspicious characters are loitering near your home.

Reconsideration of Wright Appeal Asked

VANCOUVER (CP)—An application was made before the British Columbia Court of Appeal by Stuart Henderson yesterday to reopen the court's judgment dismissing an appeal of R. A. Wright, Victoria negro sentenced to be hanged June 16 for the slaying of Mrs. Dulcie Hanham last January 27.

Mr. Henderson, Wright's counsel, sought to reopen the appeal on the ground that a statement made by the accused to the police magistrate at the preliminary hearing was not on oath and therefore not admissible as evidence.

In order to get a fair return on the land investment, very valuable land is used for apartment house building, while lower-priced land has detached homes.

It is said that domestic fires in England cause twice as much air pollution as industrial smoke.

BERLIN (AP)—A drop in Germany's foreign trade during April, disclosed in figures published today, showed that the desired results have not yet been produced by Chancellor Hitler's warning to the Reichstag January 30 that Germany must "export or die."

The April trade figures, however, showed the first foreign trade balance favorable to Germany in many months.

The Royal Visit

Regiments, Guards Rehearse

Victoria becomes daily more excited as the King and Queen move steadily west.

The downtown streets are becoming more crowded each evening, as citizens and visitors view the decorations and the special lights.

Last night was particularly gay as various bands, regiments and mounted guards rehearsed the parts they will play when the King and Queen drive in state through the city streets next Tuesday.

Tourists are commencing to arrive for the Royal Visit and many United States motor cars are noticed on the streets.

Many people last night visited Beacon Hill Park to inspect the enclosures erected there for the ceremony of the presentation of the King's colors to the Royal Canadian Navy by His Majesty on Tuesday afternoon.

The main dining-room of the Empress Hotel will be closed to the public this evening until after Their Majesties lunch there on Tuesday. The massive room, with its dark pillars and wide windows, will be touched up and the tables will be set in place tomorrow. Monday masses of flowers will be arranged.

The Empress will serve its meals during the next few days in the ballroom, which has been specially fitted as a dining-room, and the Tudor grillroom.

Butchart Gardens at Brentwood will be closed to the public all day May 30, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart said today.

Forty-two gold-bordered blue banners, 12 feet long and bearing the initials E and G, will be the main feature of the decorative scheme at the points where Their Majesties will enter and leave Oak Bay during their drive on Tuesday.

The banners will be hung on slender square white poles erected in two groups, one on Fort Street near Cranmore Road and the other on Oak Bay Avenue. In addition there will be festoons of cedar boughs forming arbors at the municipal boundaries. Final details of the decorations and of traffic control arrangements were announced last night after a final meeting of the municipal celebration committee, made up of leading citizens.

No traffic will be allowed to cross the municipal limits into Victoria after 8 in the morning and all bus and street car services will stop after that time. Traffic bound north and south across the Royal route will stop at 9.30.

Only cars with special police passes will be allowed to drive on the streets after those times. Doctors' cars will be allowed to pass only if occupied by the doctors.

Barriers across streets will not be removed until 15 to 20 minutes after the Royal procession has passed.

Holders of tickets for stands are asked by Police Chief H. C. F. Reston to be in their places as soon after 10.30 a.m. as possible.

Two bands will provide music for the crowds awaiting the arrival of Their Majesties. The band of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, will be stationed at Cranmore Road outside the High School from 10 to 11, when it will move to the municipal hall where it will play until 12.15. Its place at Cranmore Road will be taken by the buglers of the Rainbow Sea Cadets who will greet the King and Queen on their arrival.

Standard bearers from the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire will also be stationed outside the high school.

Farmers Protest School Tax Burden

Comox Delegation Urges Government Change Method of Levy

A protest against the increasing burden of school taxation on farm lands was registered with the provincial government today by a delegation of Comox Valley farmers which asked that school taxes be removed from land and paid by a sales tax or out of the income tax.

William Duncan was chairman of the delegation which included R. A. Anderson, Roy Cliffe, B. Towler, F. H. Bullock and R. U. Hurford.

"It is a matter that must be taken under consideration," Premier Pattullo said after hearing their representations.

The delegates were appointed at an indignation meeting in Courtenay on March 6. They said the situation in Courtenay was particularly bad and on the average the educational taxes had increased 800% in the last 20 years.

Farmers were unfairly hit, they said, because they put most of their improvements into their land while in the business section improvement was done to buildings which were taxed on only 50% of the assessment.

The delegates submitted detailed arguments why it would be fairer to raise the school money by a sales tax rather than on land.

"The present system makes it more profitable to rent than to own your own land," the brief said.

Successive governments had attempted to deal with the matter but had been afraid to depart from the old system. Now it had reached a crucial point, they said.

TOWN TOPICS

Canadian Airways Limited announces that on and after May 28 scheduled trip 2-A, at present leaving here at 5 in the afternoon, will be changed, to leave Victoria at 4.45 daily, arriving at Vancouver at 5.25. Air mail will close at the post office at 4.05.

Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, returned to Victoria yesterday after an absence of six weeks in the east. The minister took up various intergovernmental matters at Ottawa, and attended the convention of the American Association of Adult Education at Niagara Falls.

CBC TREATMENT OF CITY PROTESTED

Bureau Incensed at Slighting Reference in Empire Day Broadcast

The treatment of Victoria by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation in its Royal Visit broadcasts has been the subject of several protests from the Victoria and Island-Publicity Bureau to Ottawa and to the corporation's outlet in Vancouver during the last few days.

Chief cause of the protests is the bureau's claim that the only reference to Victoria in the whole of the long Empire Day broadcast, which was carried to all corners of the world, was a Winnipeg announcer's statement that Their Majesties would travel from Vancouver to "beautiful Victoria, where people go to die."

The bureau points out that in the Vancouver portion of the broadcast reference was made to the dock "from which Their Majesties will sail for Vancouver Island," and charges that through-out the Royal broadcast series all references have been to the island and never to the capital city of the province.

A further protest has been sent to an independent Vancouver station which referred to the Royal itinerary covering Canada "between Halifax and Vancouver."

There is no intention on the part of the CBC to slight Victoria, the bureau was assured in a letter received this morning from Ira Dilworth, British Columbia regional representative on the corporation's governing board.

Mr. Dilworth added Victoria was being given a larger place in the Royal broadcasting schedule than any other western Canadian city.

CHINESE ROMANCE ON EMPIRE STAGE

Before a mixed audience of white people and Chinese, in the Empire Theatre last night, the highly dramatic Chinese stage play, "The Romance of Princess Hoo Yee Fung," one of China's oldest classics, was presented by the professional Sing Kew Troupe from China.

The play, a lengthy affair lasting five hours, was cleverly acted, with Miss Gee Ging Heung and Luk Wun Fay taking the leading roles. Gorgeous costumes were the highlight of the play.

The plot is centred about Hoo Yee Fung and her lover, Luk Ling Wun, in attempting to escape the malevolent influence of the powerful Lord Kwok Kay, military ruler of a border province, and his son, Kwok Yee Hing.

The Sing Kew Troupe comprises 20 actors and actresses. For the last 18 months it has been performing in Vancouver. The troupe's Victoria presentation will continue until after the Royal Visit.

B.C. Relief Lists Remain Higher

An increase of about 2,000 families and 1,600 single persons in the number of people drawing unemployment relief in British Columbia in April by comparison with last year, was reported today by the provincial relief branch. It is approximately a 15 per cent increase.

The April lists show 15,299 heads of families drawing assistance, 43,216 dependents, 6,761 single persons and 5,815 persons classed as unemployables, a total of 71,126. This was a decrease of 3,800 from March due to the opening of seasonal work.

Teacher Training Results Announced

Six Vancouver Island people passed the teacher-training course at University of British Columbia in the last term, according to results announced today.

In Class One Phyllis L. Cowan and Jean C. McLaurin of Victoria passed.

In Class Two the following passed: Kathleen M. Bladen and H. Jean Kempton of Victoria; Margaretta G. R. Rice, Duncan, and C. Gordon Thompson, West Saanich.

Although horseshoeing began about the second century, B.C., it did not become common until the close of the 5th century, A.D.

Citizenship Is Education Aim

Major H. B. King Tells Realtors of Provincial Instruction Plan

Instruction being carried out in the junior and senior high schools of British Columbia under the current program of studies to teach pupils citizenship was outlined by Major H. B. King, technical adviser to the provincial Department of Education, to the Real Estate Board luncheon in Spencer's dining-room today.

Major King said the whole purpose of the education system today was to teach citizenship, but citizenship could not be singled out as one subject to be dealt with. The improvement of the pupil as a citizen came from all he learned, which served to integrate and socially adjust his personality.

It was necessary a pupil or adult should learn citizenship by living it, and towards this end the pupils now played a prominent part in school administration, Major King said.

J. C. Bridgman presided, introducing and thanking the speaker.

CITY EXPECTING HALL BROADCAST

Radio Description of City Council Ceremony Over CBC Anticipated

Mayor Andrew McGavin expects to have the Royal reception at the City Hall broadcast over CBC on Tuesday morning, he stated today.

"The matter is not definitely settled, but we expect to have the council ceremony broadcast. Technical men were here today and sized up the council chamber for such coverage," he stated.

Not at all worried over the sincerity of the welcome Victoria will give Their Majesties, the mayor today appealed to the public generally to cast aside reserve in giving tongue to the greeting. "We want everyone to cheer, not just appreciate the visit in a dignified and quiet way," he said.

Members of the city school board may not be presented to Their Majesties in the council chamber, the mayor reported, following receipt of a reply to his request that the elected school representatives be accorded that honor.

Decoration of the City Hall neared completion today, but flowers to be placed in the council chamber will not be in position until Monday night or Tuesday morning.

In preparation for the ceremony on Tuesday morning, the mayor called a full dress rehearsal at the City Hall for Sunday morning at 11.

Liquor Stores Close Part Time

The Liquor Control Board announced today that government liquor stores in Victoria and Esquimalt will be open from 4 to 8 p.m. next Tuesday, the day of the King's visit. Beer parlors will be permitted to remain open all day.

The partial closure is to enable employees to participate in the welcome to the King and Queen. Attorney-General Gordon Wisner explained, but the stores will be opened later to serve the needs of the public and the thousands of visitors expected in the city.

There has been some agitation as to whether stores should close or not but it has not been suggested by the committee in charge of arrangements that they should be closed all day, he said.

Similar plans are being followed in Vancouver where the stores will be open from 5 to 10 p.m. and in New Westminster, where they will be open from 4 to 8.

Wage Minimums for Canning Fixed

Special orders setting minimum wages for men and women working in the fruit and vegetable canning industry of British Columbia between June 1 and December 31 were announced today by the Board of Industrial Relations.

A time rate of 27 cents an hour for women and 35 cents for men up to 10 hours a day, with a minimum of three hours work guaranteed, is specified. Over 10 hours the rate is increased to 40 cents for women and 52½ cents for men, and over 12 hours to 54 cents for women and 70 cents for men.

Provision is made for paying not more than 10 per cent of female employees at a scale based on a minimum of 25 cents an hour. This also applies to males under 21 years of age. Special working conditions are also laid down in the orders.

There are 50 miles of plumbing aboard the British trans-Atlantic liner, Queen Mary.

New Staking Law In Effect June 1

Amendments to British Columbia mining laws, passed at the last session of the Legislature will go into effect on June 1, the Department of Mines said today.

Most important of the changes is in the staking laws which now provide that one person holding a mining license may stake eight claims in his own name within a radius of 10 miles in a year. Previously a person could stake only one claim on a lode, although he could act as agent for others.

Other changes cover various technical requirements in registration and mine development. The department also noted that free miners' certificates expire on May 31 and those representing property held under the Mineral Act and Placer Mining Act must be renewed on or before that date.

Port Day Fete At Vancouver

Greetings Sent to B.C. Metropolis From 107 World Ports

VANCOUVER (CP) — Scores of visiting craft and representatives of 34 world ports joined today in celebration of Vancouver's international port day.

Following a reception at the palatial new Hotel Vancouver, visiting port delegates were taken on various drives to the west shore, the airport, Stanley Park and Marine Drive.

More than 1,000 guests, including Vancouver citizens, were expected to attend the luncheon at which Frank C. Ferguson of New York and Dr. F. W. Norwood of London, Eng., will speak.

In the afternoon the delegates will be taken on a cruise of Vancouver's harbor—declared one of the finest natural basins in the world. The visiting craft will sail under the Lions Gate Bridge in salute to the new, span crossing the First Narrows at the harbor mouth.

Paul R. Josselyn, formerly of Hankow, China; George W. Osgood of Tacoma, and D. C. Coleman of Montreal, Vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will be guest speakers at a banquet to be held aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia in the evening.

W. A. Rundle, customs and transportation bureau manager, said messages of congratulation had been received from 107 ports in all parts of the world.

Mayor Lyle Telford and Hon. W. J. Assef, Minister of Trade and Industry, officially welcomed guests at the opening of the celebrations.

The four destroyers of the Canadian Navy, from Esquimalt Harbor, arrived during the afternoon. They were the Ottawa, Restigouche, Fraser and St. Laurent. They were "dressed" in honor of port day, but remained at anchor in Burrard Inlet. They came here to act as convoy to St. Princess Marguerite, which will carry King George VI and Queen Elizabeth to Victoria on Monday evening.

Governor Opens Vancouver Hotel

VANCOUVER (CP)—The old Hotel Vancouver, servant of society and royalty for 52 years, has given way to a palatial structure whose 15 stories tower in the sky.

A few hours after a farewell breakfast was held in the old brown stone structure, first opened in 1887, Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber, officially opened the new building Thursday.

The official opening ceremony took place at a luncheon attended by 650 prominent guests. S. J. Hungerford, president of the Canadian National Railway, which built the new hotel, presided.

The railway president said the new hotel would be operated jointly by the C.N.R. and the Canadian Pacific Railway, which constructed the original Hotel Vancouver a year after the city's incorporation.

"Together with our Canadian Pacific friends and many others, I share a feeling of sadness at the passing of the old Vancouver as a hotel," Mr. Hungerford said. "I hope the new hotel, in size and character, will be looked upon by the people of Vancouver as a complete and satisfactory fulfillment of the railway's obligation to this city."

Heads were bowed in the new hotel's spacious dining-room as Archbishop A. U. DePenier said grace. The address of Lieutenant-Governor Hamber, officially opening the structure, was followed by greetings from Hon. J. Mackenzie, representing the Dominion Government; Hon. T. D. Pattullo, representing the British Columbia government; and Mayor Lyle Telford for the city of Vancouver. D. C. Coleman, senior vice-president of the Canadian Pacific, was the concluding speaker.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—General buying prompted by unexpected strength at Chicago reversed a backward trend in the last half of today's session at Winnipeg and carried wheat futures prices slightly higher. Final quotations were 1/4 cent up, May at 65, July 66 1/2 and October 67 1/2.

No reason was offered for Chicago's late recovery, which carried southern prices to new seasonal highs. No export sales of Canadian wheat were confirmed.

Liverpool was 1/4 cent down. Chicago jumped more than a cent while Buenos Aires held unchanged.

Yesterday's country marketings reached 237,000 bushels against 108,000 for the same day a year ago.

Good buying was reported in oats, barley and rye. All rye futures quotations and October barley hit top levels for the season. Cash wheat trading was confined to a little export.

HOROSCOPE

Saturday, May 27, 1939
Good fortune should attend many inhabitants of the planet Earth today, according to astrology. Benefic aspects are dominant, though warning is given that there will be much deceitfulness and secret plotting. The mind should be alert and analyze personal needs. Relaxation and outdoor exercise are recommended. Short journeys are under a fortunate sway. Heads of educational institutions come under promising signs which presage success in the season's work. Many college graduates of this year are to have extraordinary careers. Foreign service will engage a number of young men. Amusements over this week-end may be less popular than usual, owing to competing interests. Summer stock companies will be successful. Baseball and other outdoor sports are to gain in general interest through the summer, which will be unusual in its opportunities to develop players. Jupiter is in an aspect supposed to be fortunate for international negotiations. Diplomacy, however, is subject to planetary influences making for uncertainties that cause high hopes and then severe disappointments. Greece and Roumania will face crises, economic and governmental, through the year. Surprising pages in European history are to be added to those already written in the last 12 months. Differences of opinion among German statesmen are indicated as likely to multiply. Saturn stationary in Hitler's Mars through the summer is not fortunate for the Fuehrer.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of initiative and ambitious effort. The wise will be careful in financial matters. Children born on this day probably will be highly talented. Many of these subjects of Gemini have logical, analytical minds as well as artistic tendencies. It has been estimated that there are 6,000 brands of tea in the world, and experts are able to tell them apart by the taste. Red ants are used for seasoning purposes by some natives of Borneo.

Forest Fire Toll Mounts
Cool and showery weather of the last few days has eased the forest fire situation throughout the province, the provincial forest branch reported today. The early heat wave heavily increased the number of fire occurrences although there has been nothing of major consequence. To date this season the branch reports 309 fires, compared to 128 at this time last year and 129 in 1937. Last week alone there were 99 fires. Eskimos use the jawbones of whales as roofing material.

Flying Machines in War

3—AIRPLANES
Airplanes were far more important than Zeppelins in the World War. They could travel faster, and were not such large targets. Hundreds of planes were used by both sides, for bombing and for fighting battles in the air. The first two years of the war were famed for "knights of the air." Aviators took part in single combats with the enemy. If a pilot shot down five or more enemy planes, he was classed as an "ace." Some aviators destroyed dozens of planes.

At right, Guymeyer, French aviator, who brought down 53 enemy airplanes in the World War. A French general is shaking hands with him.

A German named Richtofen had the highest record. He was given credit for 80 victories. Close behind him was Fonck, a Frenchman, with 75 victories, also Bishop, a Canadian flyer, with 72 victories. Another Frenchman, Guymeyer, won in 53 air duels, but was himself brought to the ground eight times. Since he escaped with his life the first seven times, he was given the name of "Miraculous Guymeyer." The eighth time he was brought down he met his end.

Some single combats took place in later years of the war, but by that time it was clear that the safest way to carry on air battles was in company. One plane against three or four was nearly sure to lose. In 1916 there were few pilots who would make a long trip without at least one or two airplanes alongside. Later the planes went out in groups of at least five or 10. Near the end of the war there were airplane fleets of 50 or 60 members.

In the first year of the World War aviators carried rifles, revolvers and hand grenades, even shotguns. They did not, however, have machine guns in their planes. In the summer of 1915 both sides began to mount machine guns in airplanes. At first these were fired toward the rear, and a plane had to go ahead of the enemy to be able to strike.

Soon the British made war planes with the propeller behind, the "pusher" type of plane, and in these the machine guns could be fired in a forward direction. At about the same time the Germans brought out their Fokker monoplanes; in these, the propellers were in front, but the machine guns worked so the bullets went past the propeller without striking the blade.

First one side, then the other, won greater power in the air during the World War. In the last year the Sopwith Camel, the Bristol Fighter and the Spad types of planes gave the British and the French the upper hand in this field.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

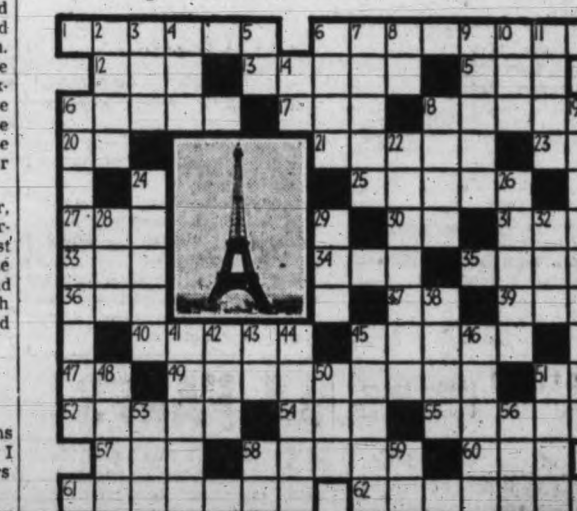

DEAR MISS DIX—I hereby declare that the girls from Stevens College, who have been making a tour around the country giving the eligible men the once-over, to be unfair to organized dating, and this goes for all other institutions of this type. We, of all the local colleges in the cities they visited, have a hard enough time making the boys take us out for even a walk, without the foreign competition element entering our daily existence. We feel that the highly organized, illegal dating that has been going on recently around these parts is too much competition. It has reduced our young men to gigolos. Why, when these visiting college girls came here our own college was attempting to swing a big dance. Men were at a premium. But they could not ask the local girls to the prom because they had spent so much on the imported talent the previous week that they were bankrupt. More than that, the visiting bevy of young women made headlines in all the papers, with much publicity, while the local girls, just as good-looking, never even rated a picture. The unfairness of this situation is obvious. What's the world coming to when the higher institutions of learning have to beg, borrow and steal other girls' dates in order to give their young things a well-rounded social life and to meet new boys?

PICKETER.
Answer—No feeling woman can read this story of the great wrong inflicted upon the local girls by the invading army of predatory young females without a pang of sympathy and feeling that they have a just grievance that the C.I.O. and the A.F. of L. should take up at once.

Heaven knows it is hard enough in these days for girls to keep their dates in line even when they have no cut-throat opposition, such as it offered by an influx of pretty girls, dressed to kill, who come with all the adventitious aids of press notices and pictures representing them as nothing less than houris, and all the things calculated to fire the masculine fancy. For, as every one knows, all men have two weaknesses on which women can always play as upon a harp with a thousand strings. One is that they are particularly vulnerable to strange girls. They always fall for feminine novelty, and even a homely girl can make a killing when she goes abroad.

The second is that they are like sheep who follow the leader where a woman is concerned. The more publicized a girl is, the more attractive she is to them. The more other men admire a girl the more they admire her. And so what chance has the demure, quiet, local girl got against the girls who are making the grand tour, with headlines proclaiming their pulchritude and screaming the names of the new boys they met? Really, girls, you ought to take the matter up with the Secretary of Labor.

Celebration Biggest in Medicine Hat's History

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP) — Old-timers agreed today the reception to King George and Queen Elizabeth was "the biggest celebration" in Medicine Hat's history.

"We've never had anything to compare with it," said 83-year-old William Cousins, who arrived here before the railway.

"There were people here from north of the Red Deer River," added James Robinson, a rancher in the district 35 years.

Mrs. Robert Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Napier agreed. It was unanimous.

DREW WISHES M.P.'S TO HEAR HIM

He and Magazine Head Make Request Of Bren Committee

OTTAWA (CP) — The public accounts committee of the Commons today received a telegram from Horace T. Hunter, president of the Maclean Publishing Company, asking that it hear him and Lieut.-Col. George Drew in answer to charges made before the committee.

The request was referred to the steering committee. Chairman W. A. Fraser (Liberal, Northumberland, Ont.) said he could see no reason for not granting the request.

The committee is investigating the circumstances of a contract for 7,000 Bren guns given by the Defence Department to the John Inglis Company Limited, Toronto.

The contract was criticized in a Maclean's Magazine article written by Lieut.-Col. Drew. Major Gen. L. R. LaFleche, deputy minister of national defence, in his evidence Wednesday referred to the "traitorous conduct" of some of the author and publisher of article on Bren gun which appeared in Maclean's Magazine has been called into question and misrepresented in evidence before your committee. I request opportunity to be heard by your committee as to circumstances leading up to publication of article in question. Col. Drew also requests as author opportunity of giving evidence on same matter.

C. Grant McNeill, C.C.F., Vancouver North, said no man should have to hear the accusation of "traitorous conduct" without the opportunity of replying.

Examination of Gen. LaFleche in negotiations leading up to the contract continued today between arguments among committee members.

TERMS WITHDRAWN

At yesterday's sitting of the committee Maj. Gen. LaFleche said he wished "any discourteous act" that he may have committed Wednesday be corrected.

The committee on Wednesday heard Gen. LaFleche refer to "the liars who have gone after War Office officials," and that Canada's defence had been impeded by men "who have sold Canada, who have apparently sold out Canada's defence."

Chairman Fraser suggested as the committee met yesterday that the phrases deemed offensive be changed on the record. He would have made "liars" into "those" and the "sold" phrases read men who "have apparently no regard for Canada's defence."

You have indicated to me that yesterday I may have used unparliamentary terms," said Gen. LaFleche. "To me that means I might have used terms that do not have due and expected courtesy to some. I thank you for directing my attention to the error of being discourteous."

"I want to make it clear that yesterday I specifically excluded from the limits of my remarks all members of this committee, of the Commons and of the Senate," C. Grant MacNeill, C.C.F., Vancouver North, said there was no point in changing that part of the record, which had been published in the press, unless an unconditional withdrawal was made. Chairman Fraser said he had given his reason for suggesting the deletion. Now he thought the best thing to do was to let the record stand. If the phrases were to be deleted or changed, all the day's session would have to be deleted also.

The committee agreed.

Country Folk Wait All Night To Glimpse Train

Come From Afar In Isolated Areas to Stand Along Track

(From Staff Correspondent With the Royal Party)

Aboard the Pilot Train—To get a touching insight into what the visit of the King and Queen means to this country you just have to push up the blind of your pullman berth in the late hours of the night as the train whistles along.

It may be a crossroad, miles from habitation, or a small railroad station, a farm or a section-hand's house, but there will be gathered groups of people. Usually the headlights of motor cars illuminate them. They will not be able to see Their Majesties, who for the first time in their lives are sleeping aboard a superb Canadian palace on wheels. All they will see will be the flash of this silver and blue train with its great searchlight penetrating the night and its green and red tail-lights. A swish and it will be gone, but it will leave a mark on their hearts. It will be something to talk about for days to come, and children who have been taken there in blankets will be reminded of the great moment when they have grown to manhood.

Take a few instances of the first night out of Toronto. It was dull and threatening to rain. It seemed by the gigantic crowds in Toronto that everyone from Ontario was there, including the quintuplets. But we had not gone far before we found small groups of people on the right-of-way, and when we reached Midhurst, which is the centre of reforestation in Ontario, we found 25,000 people. Motor cars were parked on the roads as far as we could see and others were driven into fields and other open spaces. The people had been there for four hours, but we skipped by at 30 miles an hour, leaving a column of dust and smoke. The Royal train following on did not stop, but slowed down.

A SCENE TO RECALL

The shades of night were falling when we stopped at Curley for water. Normally there are 100 people there, but for the Royal Visit there were 3,000. I climbed the bank to talk with some of them. The first man was not long from Ireland. He had a baby of 18 months, wrapped in heavy clothing, and his wife and relatives were round him. They thought the Pilot Train was the Royal Train and wanted to know where they could see the King and if they cheered loud enough would he come out. I explained to them the two trains.

"You people seem greatly interested in this visit," I said. "Oh, yes," said the man. "We have come 50 miles. Some people here have come 100 miles. I brought my baby so I could tell him when he grows up that he saw the King go by."

I will never forget the night we spent at Caledonia Springs. It was our first night on the train and we were running from Montreal to Ottawa. The northern lights were dazzling the skies as we slipped into the first siding off the main line. Then the Royal train pulled into the second siding right alongside us. A guard was thrown about both trains, large searchlights played on the tracks and men walked between and around the cars with flashlights.

By midnight car headlights were zigzagging along the countryside and coming to a halt far from the train. The lights were turned out and people curled up on the seats and tried to sleep. Before the pilot train left Caledonia Springs it started to rain. The crowd had swollen to 1,500 and they stood there in the rain.

At McTier in Ontario there was another trackside display of loyalty. The people had been standing there for six hours and did not see much more than the train go by.

JUST WAYSIDE GLIMPSES

And so it is all along the line. The word has gone forth that the King and Queen are unusual persons. They are understanding and bend to hear what their subjects think and do.

It was to be expected that there would be massed turnouts in the large cities. There was not only the appearance of the King and Queen but also pageants and parades. On the wayside a fleeting glimpse of Their Majesties is the best that can be hoped for, while at other times there is only the flash of the whirling silver and blue train. But that is enough for these hard-working people. It is something for them to talk about for the summer.

MANY FAINTING CASES

In the cities the number of people who collapse is surprising. At

CHAMBERLAIN SAYS CHURCH HAS DUTY

Faith Must Be Mobilized, He Tells Scottish Assembly

EDINBURGH (CP) — Prime Minister Chamberlain told the general assembly of the Church of Scotland today that the church's task is to "mobilize faith" and "to keep clear before the people the fundamental principles which must govern human relations."

"I hope I am not presumptuous in thinking that your reception of me this morning is not only an act of courtesy to a prime minister but that it is an expression of sympathy for a man who has been striving night and day with all his might and main, in spite of many discouragements, to keep the peace of Europe, and not only to keep the peace but to do something more—to remove that fear of danger of war and that sense of insecurity which today are oppressing the hearts of millions of people," Mr. Chamberlain said.

AIR MINE FIELD PLAN IN BRITAIN

Welsh Inventor Reveals Scheme for Rocket Barrage

SWANSEA, Wales (CP) — H. Grindell Matthews, Welsh inventor who works in a laboratory on the side of Mynyddgwair Mountain near here, claims to have evolved an aerial mine field that would make London and other large cities invulnerable to air attack.

The inventor disclosed he had sent details of his plan to Sir John Anderson, air raid precautions chief, and his eight scientific associates.

"At the cost of less than a single submarine I can make London or any other city invulnerable," he said.

His scheme provides that a band of rockets be fired to an altitude of 30,000 feet, releasing secondary rockets at any desired height. Layers of the secondary rockets would be discharged at 10,000 feet, 12,000 feet and 15,000 feet, with others at greater heights if required.

From each rocket would drop 500 feet of coil wire from which would be suspended a small bomb. The wire would be supported by small parachutes, causing any bombs unhit by enemy aircraft to float gently and harmlessly to earth and be retrieved. The main torpedo similarly would be brought to earth, where it could be reloaded and used again.

Matthews believes presence of such a mine field would so impress an enemy that no raids would take place. If the enemy were unimpressed the field would destroy his air fleet.

JAPAN REJECTS RUSSIAN PROTEST

MOSCOW (AP) — The Japanese ambassador, Shigenori Togo, has rejected a protest by Soviet Russia against a frontier incident on the Outer Mongolian border last week-end.

Togo said the blame was not on the Japanese side but that several Japanese Manchukuoan soldiers were killed. The ambassador called on Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov last night.

Japanese sources said a whole series of clashes occurred on the Manchukuo-Outer Mongolia border south of Manchouli between May 18 and 22. Infantry, tanks and airplanes were said to have participated.

Reports from the Far East today, however, reported the border quiet.

Historical Group Elects Officers

MONTREAL (CP) — John B. Brebner, Toronto, professor of British and Canadian history at Columbia University, New York, today was elected president of the Canadian Historical Association. Gustav Lanctot of Ottawa, Dominion archivist, was named vice-president, with Norman F. Swain of Ottawa, English secretary and treasurer. Sir Philip Martin of Ottawa was elected French secretary.

Members of the council include W. N. Sage, Vancouver.

The City Hall in Toronto I saw 14 people drop in the crowd and they were carried in for attention. It seems infectious. The moment one faints they go down in bunches.

It was refreshing to hear the voice of a British Columbian on the train the other night. We were searching the band for a good program when the announcer introduced His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of B.C. He was speaking in aid of the Red Cross.

Attempt to Block Triple Alliance

Nazis Refrain From Attacking Moscow in Hope of Preventing Union

By LOUIS LOCHNER Associated Press Foreign Staff

BERLIN—Evidence that Germany still hopes to prevent an alliance linking Russia with Great Britain and France was seen today in careful Nazi press efforts to avoid putting any blame on the Soviet for what Nazis call the effort to "encircle" Germany.

Instructions went out to the German press to refrain from attacking the Moscow government during the present period of negotiations for a mutual assistance agreement between the Soviet and the western democracies.

An outstanding symptom of the press attitude was a conciliatory half-page editorial on page one of the Westdeutscher Beobachter of Cologne, official Nazi Party organ in the Rhineland.

Paralleling this was the German attitude of reserve, for the time being, toward extension of the German-Italian military pact to include Japan.

But if Prime Minister Chamberlain and Joseph Stalin come to terms, a new political constellation would be regarded as having come into being and Germany would feel she had to reply—possibly with a triple alliance of her own, including Japan as well as Italy.

One editor, whose prognostications usually have been correct since he is in the inner Nazi circle, described the situation thus:

"We are by no means convinced that a triple-alliance will come into being. We don't believe Chamberlain really wants to sign a pact with Stalin, nor Stalin with Chamberlain."

"So, meanwhile, we are quietly continuing our negotiations with Japan. If the triple alliance materializes, our answer may likewise be a triple alliance."

"Japan would, of course, be a much better alliance partner if she had her affairs in the East straightened out. That is the big drawback."

Japanese Demand Seats On Council

Increased Representation Minimum Price for Withdrawing at Amoy

SHANGHAI (AP) — Japanese naval authorities tonight placed the addition of three Japanese to the Amoy municipal council as their minimum price for withdrawing a landing party of 42 men from Kulangsu, international settlement of Amoy.

There already are two Japanese on the eight-man council. Great Britain, France and the United States landed units of 42 men each at the settlement last week after Japanese demands for virtual control of the settlement had been rejected.

Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, British ambassador to China, conferred at Kulangsu today with Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Noble, British commander-in-chief in China, on the issue and both men sailed for Shanghai in the cruiser Birmingham.

The United States gunboat Tulsa arrived at Amoy, joining cruiser Marblehead and the destroyer Bulmer in the harbor.

GUARDS FOR BRITISH SHIPS OFF CHINA

Government Considers Protection Following Search By Japanese

LONDON (CP) — The government is considering plans for protection of British shipping along the China coast, Richard Butler, foreign under-secretary, told the House of Commons today.

The government took "a very serious view" of the incident in which the British steamship Ranpura was stopped by a Japanese war vessel near Hongkong Wednesday and already had made "a protest in the strongest terms" to the Japanese naval authorities, Mr. Butler said.

A Japanese navy spokesman said in Shanghai Thursday that foreign ships entering waters along the China coast were liable to be halted by Japanese warships.

Clipper Over Atlantic

HORTA, The Azores (AP) — The Yankee Clipper, on the final leg of her inaugural trans-Atlantic mail flight, took off at 7:21 p.m. (11:21 a.m., P.S.T.) for New York, where she is due early tomorrow.

BLOC MAY OPERATE UNDER LEAGUE

Britain Suggests Direction for Pact With Russia and France

GENEVA (AP) — Great Britain was reported today to have suggested to Soviet Russia that the impending Anglo-Russian-French mutual aid accord operate under the League of Nations covenant.

This would be the second step in the so-called "rejuvenation" of the League. The first step was taken Tuesday at Geneva by Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet of France when they said their agreement, once completed, would be communicated to the League.

Ivan Maisky, ambassador to Great Britain, who is presiding at the current session of the League Council, was informed of Britain's readiness to speed negotiations to bring Russia into the Anglo-French front. Russians said Britain's terms, as communicated to Moscow, were general enough to permit a wide range of negotiations and clearly indicated Britain was ready to hasten the talks.

Submarine Loss Cause Unknown

Talk of Open Valve Only Conjecture, Says U.S. Navy Yard Head

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — Asserting the cause of the sinking of the submarine Squalus last Tuesday with a loss of 26 lives still was unknown, Captain H. R. Greenlee, manager of the Portsmouth navy yard, said today: "Anything said about the (induction) valve is merely conjecture."

It originally was believed that an open induction valve allowed water to pour into the Squalus while she was making a fast dive. Yesterday, Alfred Pien, 26, machinist's mate, asserted the control board lights indicated the valve was closed.

"No one knows what happened," Captain Greenlee declared, "because no one has got down there to see." He said every submarine diver and operated with the assumption that the lights indicated the proper condition of the valves, and the Squalus had made 18 similar dives successfully.

"It is not possible," he added, "for the lights to be on if the induction valve is not closed."

HOUSE QUESTION ON B.C. LOAN

No Comment By Towers On Statement By Pattullo

OTTAWA (CP) — Questioned in the Commons banking and commerce committee today, Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, declined to make detailed comment on the report that British Columbia was "forced" to go outside Canada recently for a $3,000,000 refunding loan.

W. A. Tucker, Liberal, Rosetown, Sask., read a newspaper report quoting Premier Pattullo of British Columbia as saying it was "queer" British Columbia had to go to New York for this loan.

If this were true, Mr. Tucker said, it was something that should interest members of Parliament who created Canadian banking institutions by statute. He wanted Mr. Towers' comments.

"I don't think I should comment on that statement," Mr. Towers said. "It is not possible they were able to make a better deal in the United States? I have no means of knowing whether British Columbia was forced to go outside of Canada or not."

"Chartered banks are as keenly desirous to do business as they ever were, but when the profits are low they might not want to take risks they might otherwise take."

Offers of Parade Seats in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — Preferred positions from which to view the Royal procession "in comfort and safety" were advertised here today.

One was by an automobile dealer who said his downtown showrooms would provide a "most exclusive view" of Their Majesties as they arrive and depart from the new Hotel Vancouver Monday.

He wants $10 a person, but points out that lunch will be served on the premises.

Another advertiser invites the public to occupy a grandstand "within easy hearing distance" of the city hall, where civic welcoming ceremonies will be held.

FRANCE TO LEARN RUSSIA'S STRENGTH

In Links With Britain Army Preparedness Expected To Be Stated

PARIS (AP) — French military leaders saw a chance today to crack the riddle of Russia's military strength under the assistance agreement among France, Great Britain and the Soviet Union, which now is nearing completion. France co-operated closely on a British note to Moscow, which a reliable informant said called for reciprocal obligations among the three nations in the event of direct or indirect attack made on any one of them.

The government was reported to be considering the personnel of a military mission to go to Russia with a similar mission from Britain.

Russian military strength long has been a mystery, and the French hope, through staff talks, to get a valuable insight into conditions there.
